CARNIVAL WEEK PROMISES WELL

Formal Opening Ceremony Is Performed by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Paterson at Beacon Hill.

GUARD OF HONOR FROM BATTLE-CRUISER

Carnival Week was opened formally yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Paterson. From the standpoint of weather, the conditions could not have been more propitious. The sloping ground on which the gaily decorated stand had been constructed for the use of those officially identified with the ceremony was thronged with thousands gathered to hear the words that would set the festivities in motion. Hundreds assembled hours before the time set, and the scene was one of the most striking that has been witnessed here in many months. Gaily adorned automobiles, generously displaying both the British and the American flags, were lined up row upon row. Pedestrians stood or sat upon the green grass, with its beautiful background of broom and its grand outlook upon the Straits and the Olympic Mountains, attired in holiday costumes and possessed of that infectious spirit of gaiety so necessary for the success of such a celebration.

The gathering was stirred to enthusiasm when the strains of the 5th Regiment band presaged the advance of Victoria's militia. It was still further inspired by the sight, immediately after, of a corps of bluejackets from H.M.S. New Zealand. The latter, in command of Lieutenant Down and six other officers, were the first to take up their position in front of the stand. With them came a file of twenty-five marines, in command of Captain Blount, R. N. A., and the ship's band. These were the Lieutenant-Governor's guard of honor, kindly furnished by Captain Halsey, of the visiting battle-cruiser, at the request of the committee of management. Behind them were lined a numerically strong and exceedingly soldierly corps of the Fifth Regiment, R. C. G. A., with Lieutenant-Colonel Currie in command.

This military display, especially the part the bluejackets took in it, was a feature which Victorians have not had

SCHOOL FOR PRINTERS

Montreal Deputation Waits on Premier of Quebec to Request Establishment of Technical Institution

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—An influential delegation representing the employing printers of the city, the Typographical unions, and the Montreal Technical school, called upon Sir Lomer Gouin, Premier of the Province, today to request the establishment of a technical school where the art of printing and book-binding would be taught. The necessity for such an institution, it is stated, is caused by the shortage of experienced men, this, in turn being due to the fact that the apprentice system is not working successful by modern times, the journeymen printer of today having neither the time nor the inclination to instruct apprentices.

Sir Lomer received the suggestion favorably and stated that he would give it every consideration. He thoroughly sympathized with the proposal, but great demands are already mada on the provincial treasury in the cause of education ,and it might be impossible to finance the enterprise. He suggested that his petitioners also seek the coaperation of the city.

The cost of establishing the proposed school is $10,000, and the sum estimated necessary for its maintenance annually is $5,000.

Moose Jaw Tax Rate

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Aug. 4.—The City Council tonight struck the rate at 17 mills, which includes one mill covering collegiate and library purposes.

Militia Officers Urging Department to Send Force Several Thousand Strong to England Next Year.

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—Militia officers are urging upon the Militia Department the proposal to send a force of all arms, several thousand strong, to the British divisional and army manoeuvres of 1914.

It is suggested that there be sent a brigade of four battalions of infantry, one of Highlanders drawn from the various kilted corps of the Dominion, one of guards and fusiliers chosen from regiments wearing bearskins, one of rifles and one of infantry. In addition there would be a mounted unit drawn from the cavalry, artillery and other corps.

Col. the Hon. Hughes would command the force, which would be given some weeks preliminary training at Quebec. The selection would be made from regiments which make the best showing in the training of next season.

GREAT SALMON RUN IN FRASER

Canneries Have More Fish Than They Can Handle—Strike at Mouth of River Ends Suddenly.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 4.—Upriver fishermen around Port Kells, Douglas Island, Silverdale Bar and Westminster got word last night of a strike at the mouth of the river, but refused to participate in it and consequently secured immense hauls of the leaping sockeye. The river was alive with fish, and as many as 400 were netted in a few minutes in a single drift.

The policy pursued was not to remove the fish from the meshes as the net was hauled in, but to haul in the net and fish together and make for the bank, take the fish ashore and hurry back to make more drifts. Most of these are independent fishers, and as a result Glenrose cannery, the St. Mungo cannery, the British Columbia cannery and Brodie's had more fish than they could handle. The St. Mungo, for instance, had enough fish to keep the plant at top notch of speed for another couple of days, even if they did not catch any more, the British Columbia sent as many as 50,000 away, and the others shipped to other plants. It is believed too, that the crest of the run will not be reached for some days yet.

Strike Is Over

STEVESTON, B. C., Aug. 4.—Dislocating the salmon canning industry at a time when the salmon were pouring into the mouth of the Fraser in countless hordes, five thousand fishermen, white, yellow and red, struck yesterday, demanding twenty cents a fish for all salmon caught. For 24 hours not a fish entered a cannery.

Then abruptly the strike ended. Thirty-three canneries were affected by the strike, of which twenty-five were in Richmond. By midnight a dozen had agreed to pay twenty cents a fish, and all are expected to be working tonight. Local cannerymen say the biggest catch in the past ten years will probably be made.

A deputation waited tonight in Vancouver on Mr. W. D. Burdiss, secretary of the British Columbia Canners' Association. Subsequently Mr. Burdiss stated that the deputation had been told that fifteen cents was all the canners could afford to pay for the fish. He added that the American canners were getting their fish for five and six cents and that the British Columbia canners had to compete with them in the English markets, and if anyone could tell him how they could pay twenty-five cents and do so he would be glad to hear from them.

Accused of trafficking in American fish from White Rock, the gasoline fishing launch H. O. G., registered at New Westminster, was this morning seized by Mr. J. B. Murchison, customs official, with its cargo of 600 fish. The vessel, owned by Frank Hatt, is said to have brought salmon from the American side, where the salmon run has been at its height for the past week, and sold them here without paying duty. When the craft was seized, a large part of its cargo had been dis-

STUDY PANAMA CANAL

Chilean Admirals Will Report on Trade Possibilities—Valparaiso Spending $35,000,000 in Harbor Works

PANAMA, Aug. 4.—Admiral Jorge Montt and Admiral Luic Uribe, of the Chilean Navy, sailed for home today, after having made a study of the Panama Canal from the standpoint of its commercial possibility for Chile. Upon their reports rests the decision whether the Chilean Government will increase its subsidy to the Chilean Steamship Company to permit of the operation of a line of steamers with through sailings from Valparaiso to Europe.

The visitors spoke optimistically of the outlook. They said that Valparaiso already had begun port improvements in anticipation of the opening of the canal. These improvements, they declared, would cost $35,000,000.

BIG REWARD OFFERED

Member of Lloyds Will Pay $300,000 for Recovery of Missing $700,000 Pearl Necklace

PARIS, Aug. 4.—Three hundred thousand dollars has been placed in the hands of a Paris advocate for the recovery of the missing $750,000 pearl necklace, which was stolen between Paris and London. The amount was put up by a member of Lloyds.

In the meantime a dispute over the necklace is going on between Scotland Yard and French detectives. The former claim that the pearls were lost in French territory, while the Paris detectives say the theft took place in England.

RECALL FOR CALGARY

Initiative and Referendum Also Provided for in Measure Now Before City Council

CALGARY, Alta., Aug. 4.—The initiative, referendum and recall will be operative in Calgary in a short time, if legislation started in the City Council tonight prevails. The Council makes provision for the adoption of a charter amendment providing for the initiative on petition of eight per cent of the vote, the referendum on ten per cent and the recall on 25 per cent.

COMMEMORATE VISIT

A beautiful piece of silver plate, richly engraved and happily inscribed, and placed in some prominent place on board, will serve to always remind the officers and crew of the New Zealand of their visit to these waters.

Premier Sir Richard McBride and his Cabinet have arranged that when the vessel leaves port she will do so with something more tangible and lasting than words to remind her company of the present visit and to mark the pleasure and patriotic sentiment which it has evoked among the people of British Columbia.

An order has been placed with Redfern & Sons for a handsome piece of silver, in the form of a bowl, which will be formally presented to Captain Halsey for custodianship on Saturday. This permanent token of appreciation stands about a foot and a half high and rests upon a beautifully polished pedestal. The design is quite unique and the workmanship is exquisite.

CUTTING WHEAT IN MANITOBA

Harvesting Will Be General in Southern Portion of Province by End of Week—Outlook in Saskatchewan.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 4.—Harvesting has already opened up in Gretna, Plum Coulee, Winkler, Morden, Brandon, Portage, Arden and Stockton, according to reports received by the Provincial Department of Immigration. There are a number of other places where harvesting will be commenced this week and in fact in a large portion of Southern Manitoba cutting will be in operation by the end of the week.

Urgent requests for farm help continues to be received by the Department, and a number of British harvesters who left Quebec on Saturday night are expected to arrive Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, and will help out to a considerable extent. On the same, or the following day, men are expected whose railroad fare has been prepaid.

Yield in Saskatchewan

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 4.—The crop report of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture issued today stated that harvesting will be general by August 20. In the districts surrounding Maple Creek, fifhy per cent of the barley is cut. The wheat crop is well up to the average height and during the past two weeks has improved greatly.

The average yield for the province promises to be higher than last year and will, as far as can be determined at this stage by the crop reports received so far, show 20 bushels per acre. The crops sown on new breaking and summer fallow are making the best showing.

Hailstorms have done considerable damage in the Rosthern and Humboldt districts, also at Estevan and Janison. Slight frosts were reported at Weyburn.

The weather conditions have been excellent during the past two weeks, fine weather for many days having been the general rule, with light showers, which have good effect. Ripening has proceeded so rapidly that some districts having lighter soil report that some showers would assist in filling the heads. There is as yet little demand for harvest labor.

Plans Membership Campaign

SASKATOON, Sask., Aug. 4.—The Saskatoon Board of Trade is about to start on a whirlwind campaign to increase their membership from 250 to 1,000 members in a short space of time. The object is to raise funds and to increase the work of the board.

Discovers Anti-Cholera Serum

PARIS, Aug. 4.—Dr. Pierre Roux, director of Pasteur Institute, announced before the Academy of Science today his discovery of an anti-cholera serum. He said that monkeys which had been infected with cholera had been cured by inoculations with the serum.

English Mansion Burned

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The residence of the late Sir George Newnes, at Lynton, North Devonshire, was destroyed by fire early this morning. The police believe the fire was set by suffragettes.

THREE-CENT FARE FIGHT

Detroit Street Railway Company Threatens to Withdraw Cars at First Sign of Trouble

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 4.—The franchise committee of the Detroit City Council today unanimously approved of Mayor Marx's resolution calling on the people on and after next Thursday to refuse to pay more than three-cent fares on local street car lines, where franchises held by the Detroit Railway Company have expired. It seems certain that the Council will pass the resolution tonight.

The Street Railway Company, through an attorney, prepared a statement which declared that the company will stop running cars on the affected lines at the first sign of trouble. The action of the Council practically brought to a crisis a dispute between the Street Railway Company and the Council, which has been bitterly contested for several months. Local newspapers have figured prominently in the matter.

Fire in Quebec Village

QUEBEC, Aug. 4.—A fire which threatened the whole village broke out at two o'clock this afternoon at Shateau Richer. The village is about eighteen miles from the city and forty-seven miles from St. Anne Beaupre. As Chateau Richer has no fire apparatus, assistance was asked from Quebec. A detachment of fifteen men of the city brigade, with a steam engine, was dispatched to the scene. The loss will be between $15,000 and $20,000, with very little insurance.

IMMIGRATION SHOWS INCREASE

Dominion Official Says Arrivals This Season Will Number Half Million—Rigid Examination Instituted.

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—The present season will probably show half a million immigrants, according to Mr. John Hoolahan, of the Dominion Immigration Department.

"The stream has been a steady one this year," said Mr. Hoolahan, "and we are well satisfied with the class we are getting. The number of deportations are kept at a low figure because the examinations now instituted on the other side, in addition to this side, is a rigid one."

Mr. Hoolahan ridiculed the idea that there is any scarcity in the demand for labor. He declared that all able-bodied people who arrive find work without difficulty, with the possible exception of those who do not look for or want work.

CRUISERS HERE FOR CARNIVAL

H. M. S. New Zealand and U. S. S. West Virginia Are Moored Side by Side in Harbor at Esquimalt.

BOTH WARSHIPS GIVEN FLATTERING WELCOME

Calls and Felicitations Are Exchanged Between Naval, Civic and Consular Officials and Rear-Admiral Reynolds.

Moored alongside in Esquimalt Harbor, the two magnificent fighting machines H. M. S. New Zealand and U.S.S. West Virginia, present an inspiring sight. Never before have two warships of such huge proportions, representing the two great Saxon nations, swung at anchor within the confines of the rock-bound naval harbor, and the fact is significant.

Considerable interest was evinced in the almost simultaneous arrival of the two battle-cruisers, and throughout the afternoon crowds of eager sightseers wended their way to the dockyard to view the two magnificent specimens of modern naval construction.

The United States Crusier West Virginia, with Rear-Admiral Alfred Reynolds on board, was the first to put in an appearance, but it was not long afterwards that the formidable battle-cruiser, gift of the New Zealand people to the Mother Country, steamed slowly and majestically past the Fisguard light and dropped her anchor in almost identically the same spot as on the occasion of her initial visit to this port. The cruiser West Virginia, which is visiting Victoria at the invitation of the Carnival committee, is, with the exception of her internal arrangements, the duplicate of the cruiser California, which was in port last week.

Greeted Upon Arrival

Carnival representatives boarded the West Virginia immediately after her arrival to extend greetings to Rear-Admiral Reynolds and his command on the occasion of his initial visit to the port. Shortly after H.M.S. New Zealand had come to her anchorage, Captain Lionel Halsey boarded his steam pinnace and went aboard the West Virginia to extend the usual naval courtesies to the Admiral of the Pacific reserve fleet.

ROUMANIA URGES PROMPT ACTION

Determined Peace Preliminaries Shall Be Signed on Friday—The Powers Are to Decide Unsettled Points.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 4.—M. Majorosco, the Roumanian Premier, and permanent president of the Peace Conference, in proposing a three days' extention of the armistice today, said that no further prolongation of the armistice would be asked, and that therefore the labors of the Conference must be completed on Friday. The delegates agreed to extend the armistice.

It is understood Roumania is determined the peace preliminaries shall be signed on Friday, and that the unsettled points, such as the ownership of Istip, Kotschana, Radovishtah and Strumitza, shall be submitted to the decision of the Powers. It is believed Greece will retain Kavala.

The new frontier between Roumania and Bulgaria, as agreed upon, will start twelve kilometers south of Baltjik, a port on the Black Sea, running northwesterly to a point twelve kilometers south of Dobritch and finish nine kilometers west of Turtukai, on the Danube, about forty miles southeast of Bucharest.

It is reported the allies will abandon their demand for an indemnity from Bulgaria.

Will Arrest Former Premier

LONDON, Aug. 4.—It is reported in Belgrade, says The Telegraph's correspondent, that the Bulgarian Government has ordered the arrest of Dr. Daneff, former Premier, and head of the Bulgarian peace delegation to London, on a charge of unlawfully using secret funds of the Government.

The Times Bucharest correspondent says he believes the Balkan peace conference will assign Kavala to Greece, but that, as Russia, Austria, Great Britain and Italy insist that the fate of this Aegean seaport should be decided by the powers, it is not unlikely that it eventually will be given to Bulgaria.

TRIBUTE TO WORK OF NAVAL ARCHITECTS

The important meeting of naval architects in Glasgow was inaugurated by a reception of the visiting members and guests by the Glasgow Institute of Shipbuilders and Engineers.

At the first business session E. Hall-Brown, president of the Scottish institution, said he was addressing those upon whose work very much of their safety, happiness and prosperity as a nation depended. Both for the navy, upon which they relied primarily for the defence of their country, colonies and commerce, and for the requirements of the mercantile marine they had to recognize the importance of their labors.

As men of peace they all heartily desired the time when the sword and the spear would be converted into the ploughshare and the pruning hook, yet they had to acknowledge the present necessity of preparing for war. Whatever their opinion might be of the imminence of the time when the universal brotherhood of man would be recognized, and the duties of brotherhood joyfully accepted by the nations of the earth, so long as warships had to be built, it was their duty to design, build and equip the best that human ingenuity could produce.

He further spoke of the necessity of specializing in the building of merchant ships, and said that the maintenance of Britain's commercial supremacy depended upon the exact adaptation of her mercantile fleet to its work. The type and equipment of each vessel must be adapted to the trade in which she was engaged, and this adaptation could only be attained by close co-operation between the shipowners and the naval architect. If shipowners took more advantage of the naval architects' knowledge and skill not only for higher class vessels but for vessels of all classes, the result would be greater economy and efficiency.

Recent developments in shipbuilding had introduced many new problems. Steam turbines had made possible greater speed, the introduction of the internal combustion engine for marine propulsion had brought changes, the reintroduction of mechanical gearing and problems connected with electrical and hydraulic transmission between the prime mover and the propeller were all claiming their attention.

The institute being an international one, he was glad to welcome the representatives of other countries. Acknowledgement was due to the great work being accomplished in naval architecture by their confreres in Italy, France and Germany, and to that of earlier times in Portugal, Spain and Holland.

Later in the afternoon Rear-Admiral Reynolds went on board the New Zealand, and was cordially received by Captain Halsey and his officers. Upon the departure of the Rear-Admiral from the big battle-cruiser he was given a salute of thirteen guns, a similar honor having previously been paid to Captain Halsey when he left the Admiral's ship. An exchange of felicitations was then in order between Mayor Morley, Consul A. E. Smith and the Admiral. Some time was spent in the Rear-Admiral's cabin, and upon their departure a salute of seven guns was fired from the port battery. This morning Rear-Admiral Reynolds will pay a visit to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, and later to Sir Richard McBride, these gentlemen subsequently returning the call by boarding the warship. Owing to prior arrangements the dinner which was to have been given on board the West Virginia last night in honor of the officers of the New Zealand, has been postponed to a later date.

Admiral Glad to be Here

When seen on board the West Virginia yesterday afternoon, Rear-Admiral Reynolds expressed his sincere gratification at being able to visit Victoria under such auspicious circumstances, and although this was his first visit, he hoped it would not be the last. Such visits as these only served to cement more firmly the friendly relations that had always existed between the two countries. Last evening officers of the West Virginia and the New Zealand attended a ball given in their honor at the Union Club.

The after deck of the West Virginia was last night the scene of much gaiety. It was the occasion of a bumper smoking concert tendered to a large percentage of the crews of the New Zealand, Rainbow and Shearwater. Under the awning on the ship's after deck was erected, a "squared circle," in which were staged several smart boxing bouts. About two hundred members of the New Zealand's crew and fifty men from the Shearwater were the guests of the West Virginia, and a right merry time was spent by all concerned. Sleight of hand tricks were amusing, and the vocal organs of the numerous performers were used to advantage. A good time was spent by all, and rousing salvos of cheers rent the air as the British tars left the ship in barges.

Visiting Day

Today members of the crews will attend the field sports at the Willows, and on Wednesday afternoon the ship's athletes will participate in the water sports staged by the Carnival committee.

Few visitors boarded the warships yesterday, as it was not generally known that the ships were to be thrown open to public inspection. However, there is little doubt that huge numbers of sightseers will visit the warships today and following days between the hours of 1:30 p.m. and 5 p.m. The West Virginia is scheduled to remain at anchor in Esquimalt Harbor until Sunday morning, when she will set sail for the Bremerton navy yard.

The New Zealand will also clear port at the end of the week, continuing her world voyage to the United Kingdom via South America.

WILL RESUME ATTACK ON FORTS

Five Thousand Troops Sent to Strengthen Government Forces at Shanghai—Sharp Fighting Appears Inevitable.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—A dispatch to The Times from Shanghai says that the negotiations on the part of the Government forces for the surrender of the rebels have been dropped and that sharp fighting appears to be inevitable. Apparently the Government troops control the railway to Pukow, west of Nanking, and the rebels are tending to drift down country between Nanking and Chin Kiang. While the Government has the whip-hand, the correspondent concludes, there is no prospect of an early cessation of all hostilities.

A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Pekin says it is understood there that a fresh convoy of five thousand of Northern troops is leaving to attack the Wo Sung and Kiang Nan forts.

Cruisers Shell Forts

SHANGHAI, Aug. 4.—Shots were exchanged today between the Government cruisers and the Wu Sung forts held by the rebels, but without results. The negotiations for the surrender of the forts have proved futile and a stiff fight is probable there when Admiral Tseng has cleared the Shanghai district of the rebels.

IMMEDIATE START ON GORGE ROAD PAVING

City Will Find Funds to Complete Work From Douglas Street to Manchester Road —Made-in-Victoria Exhibit.

After an agitation extending for over a year, property owners on the Gorge Road are about to see a start made upon the paving of a portion of the thoroughfare. While the work as originally passed calls for paving from Douglas Street to Washington Avenue, only that portion as far west as Manchester will be done now. As for the balance of the work, that will have to wait until further funds are provided.

The recommendation that the work be proceeded with was contained in a report of the finance committee submitted at last night's meeting of the City Council. Alderman Gleason, chairman of the committee, stated that the cost of the work will be in the neighborhood of $30,000, a sum which can be provided out of general revenue. What arrangement the city has made with the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company, to which the contract for the work was let last year, was not explained by Alderman Gleason.

The information that the work will be at once proceeded with will be welcome news to owners on the Gorge Road, who have for the past year been impatiently awaiting some announcement that the undertaking would be prosecuted.

Made-in-Victoria Exhibit

In supporting the request of Mr. George Sangster, secretary of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, that the city make a grant towards the cost of the construction of a new building at the fair grounds to accommodate an exhibit of made-in-Victoria products, such structure to cost about $10,000, Alderman Porter pointed to the attraction which such an exhibit would be at the forthcoming Provincial fair.

"I think this Board has already dealt with the matter," stated the mayor.

"No, sir," retorted Alderman Porter. "You and I met the directors, and you were then very pessimistic about it, but perhaps the Council will take another view."

Alderman Porter stated that about thirty-five firms are ready to take space valued at $1,500. The Cameron Lumber Company had offered to supply lumber and labor to the amount of $5,000 and wait six months for payment. Last year the association had a surplus of $9,000, but of this, necessary improvements had taken some $7,500 this year, and there was not much left towards the cost of the proposed building.

Mayor Morley doubted if the city could afford the money, but Alderman Porter pointed to the Mayor's desire to spend $6,000 on jail alterations.

"But that is for an emergency," answered His Worship.

On Alderman Porter's suggestion, Mr. Sangster's request was referred to the finance committee.

The draft agreements between the city and the C. P. R. and B. C. Electric Company relative to running rights over the proposed new Johnson Street bridge were considered and approved, the terms having been settled at a recent session of the Council.

UNION CLUB BALL BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Function Held In Honor of the Officers of New Zealand Brought Many Distinguished Visitors to Capital

The ball at the Union Club in honor of the officers of the New Zealand was given last night, and proved to be one of the most brilliant successes of the season. The company was a large one, and represented many different groups. The afternoon and evening boats from the Mainland brought over a large number of guests, as also did the trains from Island resorts.

For the occasion the Club ballroom was very beautifully decorated, and the handsome gowns of the ladies made a corruscating symphony of the general scheme of illumination. On the outside, too, elaborate preparations had been made to ensure a measure of privacy without shutting out the balmy night air. The staircase was nicely covered in and railed off, and the utmost convenience offered the guests in the way of alighting from their cars and carriages.

Lose Their Lives When Cottage Is Destroyed—Fire the Result of Explosion of Lamp

QUEBEC, Aug. 4.—Seven lives were lost by fire which destroyed the cottage of Joseph Paquette, pilot, who lives at St. Jean, Island of Orleans.

The dead: Mrs. Paquette, 40; Alexander Paquette, aged 35 years; Leonie Cadie Paquette, aged 23; Marie Louise Paquette, aged 20; Emma Paquette, Aged 18; —— Paquette, aged 13; infant, aged 1.

Injured: Joseph Paquette, severe burns; Mrs. J. Lapointe, Quebec, severe burns.

It is thought that in the case of Jos. Paquette, the injuries may prove fatal. Mrs. Lapointe was on a visit to the Paquettes and, with Leonie Paquette, a crippled girl, 15 years of age, was rescued by the father of the family. A lamp left burning as a night light, exploded at four o'clock this morning and started the fire.

DEATH OF MR. T. H. TIGHE

Popular and Widely-Known Business Man of Victoria, Passes Away After Brief Illness

Widespread regret has been caused friends and acquaintances at the death yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital of Mr. Thomas H. Tighe, of the firm of Tighe & Wheeler, Yates Street.

Three weeks ago Mr. Tighe was removed to the hospital suffering from cancer, for which an operation was performed, this however, being too late to save the patient's life. He was 57 years of age, and is survived by his wife.

Mr. Tighe, who was a member of the local aerie of Eagles, the Elk lodge and the Knights of Pythias, passed away at an early hour this morning. The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning at 8:45 from the Sands-Fulton Undertaking Parlors, and fifteen minutes later from the Roman Catholic Cathedral. The graveside services will be in charge of the Eagles.

A native of Massachusetts, Mr. Tighe migrated to the West while a comparatively young man, and his attention was first called to the North Pacific Coast about eighteen years ago, when the rush of gold seekers were pushing their way up to Alaska. Entering the ranks of active prospectors there, he became known in later years as one of the pioneers of that country and his name was known to nearly all the miners who penetrated to the mining district in the early days. He was no less popular in Goldfield, Nevada, where he was in business for some ten years with the partner whose name was associated with his in this city during the past few years. The combination was popular, and Tighe & Wheeler again joined forces on coming to this city two years ago, both the members of the firm winning in both places local esteem which brought them many friends and acquaintances.

UNITY NECESSARY IN BEAUTIFYING CITIES

Lecturer Says Time Will Come When Every City Will Have Special Commission to Pass on Public Works.

"City planning is not only the work of the architect and engineer, but the work of all who are contributing in any way to the building up of a new town or city," said Mr. T. Brockman in and address on 'City Planning in the West,' before the Regina Engineering Society.

"The time will come when our cities will have a special commission whose duty it shall be to pass on every work of public interest. This commission will be composed of experts in every phase of urban life, and they will plan their work, so that every scheme of each department will dovetail with the work of other departments. There is no phase of city life that would not be benefitted by this city planning scheme. Streets, boulevards, parks, public buildings, waterworks, street railway, amusement halls libraries, educational institutions, freight and passenger terminals, railways, etc., all should be laid out by experts having the entire city plan in mind. A town or city should have some outstanding feature—a personality, and this cannot be obtained in any other way than by centralized planning of the whole."

Mr. Brockman emphasized the great need for the city acquiring land adjacent to the city limits, so that when the population increased to such an extent that it became necessary to use these subdivisions, or annexes, they could be properly planned so that the housing problem would be taken care of, and so that plenty of open space should be provided for parks and recreation grounds.

European System

In support of the soundness of this theory, Mr. Brockman cited a number of instances where German and European cities had adopted this plan, much to their own advantage. He said that in a number of cases the land was never sold, but let ont on long leases of ninety years, reverting to the city after that period, so that all the increased value went to strengthen the city's financial standing.

Mr. Brockman deplored the present system under which any one might erect a large business block in what should really be a residential district, and said that if cities were properly planned they would be divided into well defined districts, representing wholesale, retail, manufacturing and residential.

Two or three plans were shown to illustrate the great convenience of "ring" streets, with diagonal streets radiating out from the centre. These, it was pointed out, would greatly facilitate the handling of traffic, besides giving the city a much more artistic appearance. No heavy traffic, he said, should be allowed on residential streets, and there was really no reason why these streets should be made so wide. It would be far better, he pointed out, to use the extra few feet on each side for boulevards.

Mr. Brockman concluded his paper by saying that the plans for all large buildings should be submited to a City Planning Commission before being accepted, and that even the houses should be so arranged that each street would present a unity of design which would be pleasing to the eye.

A STEEL-EDGED SECURITY

If it were possible to sum up the aggregate income of the people of the British Empire we think it would be found to fall little, if anything, short of $20,000,000,000. This is an immense sum, but when it is stated that a census return of the United Kingdom alone gives the income of the nation as $10,000,000,000 for 1907 we do not think that twenty billions for the whole Empire at the present time is too great. The mention of this aggregate Empire income leads to the contemplation of the vast amount of capital that must be employed, and the thought of what it is that insures it against depreciation or, indeed, entire loss. We are reminded of this subject by the presence of H.M.S. New Zealand in port. It is the British fleet that is the steel-edged security of the British Empire. The New Zealand and all the other vessels that fly the white ensign comprise the one thing that can afford real security for our national capital, our annual incomes, our very lives and the liberty we enjoy. That is one of the great thoughts that the presence of the battle-cruiser inspires.

We in Canada are not paying one cent or the premium on this steel-edged insurance policy. In the British Isles the expenditure for the present fiscal year on the navy is approximately $240,000,000, or an outlay of somewhere in the neighborhood of $5 for each man, woman and child in the United Kingdom. New Zealand's gift battle-cruiser that is now with us cost approximately $10,000,000 and occupied about thirty months in building. In other words, New Zealand gave as her premium at the rate of $4,000,000 a year or $4 for each man, woman and child in that country. It is a compelling fact to call to mind that the cheapest of all our investments and the one that guarantees the safety of all the others can be secured at the nominal charge of $5 per head per annum. If each Canadian were to give $5 each year this country could build three super-dreadnoughts every twelve months. Such a contribution to Imperial defence would do more than mean added strength to the line of battleships and added security to our national insurance. It would mean the lifting of a reproach under which we have labored too long and the payment of a debt of honor that will only grow heavier as the years go by.

BOY SCOUTS' ENCAMPMENT

Among the youth of the city the Boy Scouts' movement seems to maintain perennial popularity. The encampment at Beacon Hill Park this year is very significant of the hold the organization has taken. We understand that as the years go on the discipline becomes more strict and this is as it should be, for there is no better training for after life than disciplinary methods in dealing with the young. We do not mean by this that the dictates of the martinet should prevail on all occasions, but in connection with the Boy Scout movement it is essential that methods be employed that will insure the be all and end all of the organization being achieved. To "be prepared" for whatever eventualities may arise is the scouts' motto, and an excellent one. The advances made by the movement is an earnest of the widespread belief that the training inculcated is such as meets with the hearty approval of parents. In addition it is of a character that is attractive to the youths themselves. It is a life that improves their physical fitness, their self-respect, and their ability to obey. In their curriculum the lesson is taught that the first essential of being able to command is to learn to obey. This is an obvious truth, one that our youth are learning readily, and this fact has had much to do with the success of the movement in Victoria. As well it has meant a cleaner, brighter and more physically fit body of boys, who at all times have shown themselves a credit to the community. This fact can be ascertained by a visit to the encampment at Beacon Hill where representatives of the majority of the troops in the city are to be found. There, will be found some of the most energetic and representative youth of the city, engaging in exercises in which they take a keen pride, and of such a character as will fit them admirably, when the time comes, to take hold of the more serious issues of life and to combat with them

SHELBOURNE STREET

The proposed extension of Shelbourne Street hangs fire for no especial reason, and this reference to it is not made in any spirit of complaint, but solely that it may be kept before the public mind. The name of the street does not convey much to many people, and so we may mention that it runs north from Bay Street. The proposal is to extend it to Mount Douglas Park. For the following particulars regarding it we are indebted to Mr. G. Blizard, the chairman of the committee of Wards One and Two, which has the matter in hand.

The project involves the widening of Shelbourne Street from 66 to 75 feet, and its extension in a direct line to Feltham Road, a distance of about three miles. There the road will make an easy curve and terminate at the foot of Mount Douglas. Completed with permanent roadway, car tracks, sidewalks and kerbs, the cost is placed at $240,000. The car line would probably develop from the proposed Haultain Street line. At present the proposal is to expropriate the necessary right-of-way, most of which has been given without charge, and make a permanent roadway ready for the car track, leaving the remainder of the work to be paid for by a local improvement levy. The expenditure now contemplated will total at $180,000, and it is proposed to raise the money in the following manner:

Provincial Government	$30,000
City of Victoria	30,000
Saanich Municipality	30,000
	$90,000

To provide the remainder it is proposed that the money to be otherwise expended in permanent paving on the Mount Tolmie and Cedar Hill Roads shall be expended on this new road. Mr. Blizard says that this meets the approval of the residents on these roads. The remainder would be raised under a local improvement by-law. These amounts would be as follow:

Municipality of Saanich	$ 57,000
Provincial Government	17,000
Local improvement	26,000
	$ 90,000
Add as above	90,000
Total	$180,000

We are informed that the Provincial Government and the city authorities are favorable to assisting the project along the lines mentioned. The clerk of the municipality, in a letter to Mr. Blizard, says:

"When the Government and the city have both signified their intention to make a contribution adequate with the requirements of the road, then the Council will take proceedings to complete the transaction."

Such is a statement of the case as we understand it, and assuming it to be correct, upon which point we have no doubt at all, it seems as if there was no valid reason for any delay after the Minister of Public Works has returned home. The proposed road seems to be very desirable. Victoria has not yet begun to make use of the very great attraction known as Mount Douglas Park, which is by nature one of the finest parks adjacent to a city to be found anywhere in the world. Some discussion has arisen as to what the road shall be called. "Mount Douglas Avenue" has been proposed; to this an objection has been taken that it might be confused with Douglas Street, but we hardly think this tenable, for the words "Mount" and "Avenue" would differentiate them.

A WELCOME VISITOR

The U.S. Cruiser West Virginia, with Admiral Reynolds and her gallant officers and crew, are cordially welcomed to Victoria. It was a very graceful thing on the part of the Admiral to favor us with this visit, and on the part of the Secretary of the Navy to accord him permission to make it. Visits of this kind tend to promote international good will, for the people of both nations are pretty good folk, and the better they know each other, the higher they will stand in each other's esteem.

We hope our visitors will spend a very enjoyable week with us. That our other visitors, the fine fellows who man H. M. S. New Zealand, will do their share to make their stay a pleasant one, we may feel well assured. May we express the hope that the two flags, which now fly in Esquimalt over these modern engines of war, will ever be side by side for the cause of liberty, justice and humanity?

AN INTERESTING DISPLAY

Yesterday's ceremony at Beacon Hill Park was rendered highly interesting by the presence there of representatives of the naval and military forces. The guard of honor from H.M.S. New Zealand courteously furnished for the occasion by Captain Halsey, was composed of a splendid body of men who afforded a striking testimony to the calibre of bluejackets who compose His Majesty's navy. Their movements and appearance were subjects of high praise, and Victoria is fortunate in having the battle-cruiser in port during the present festivities. The men from Work Point Barracks, the Fifth Regiment—which [illegible] numbers, and the 88th added greatly to the attractiveness of the ceremony, all looking smart, marching well, and going through their evolutions with skill. It is a long time since there was such a representative display of the two branches of defence in Victoria, and it will long be remembered by those who were privileged to be present at the opening of the Carnival Week.

His Honor, who officiated at yesterday's inauguration, delivered a brief address, characterized by its appositeness to the occasion. He was able to read a telegram from the Duke of Connaught, expressing the hope of the Governor-General that the week's festivities would be a complete success. This instance of His Royal Highness' memory of the Carnival in progress here furnishes an example of the keen interest he takes in events transpiring in Canada. Despite his multifarious duties the fact that he had consented to act as patron of the event had not been forgotten, and there is little doubt that he would have been pleased to open the affair himself if it had been possible for him to be in British Columbia at this time.

INTERESTING SURVIVORS

The Forestry Branch of the Dominion Government has been investigating the existence of buffalo herds in northern latitudes with the result that several have been discovered in the great region lying west of the Slave River. A full report with illustrations will appear in the report of the Director of Forestry to be issued shortly, and, in the meantime, the following official statement will be found of interest:

The existence of at least three herds of buffalo was proved, each herd consisting of bulls, cows and yearlings to the number of about forty-five. In appearance they closely resemble the plains buffalo, of which they are the remnants, but being forced by necessity to live in the hilly, wooded regions remote from settlement, they have changed their habits somewhat, and are fleeter of foot and more agile than their ancestors of the plains. In summer they may be found in twos and threes, roaming through the birch woodlands, but in winter they travel in large bands for greater security against the wolves. In Winter, when passing from one feeding ground to another, they travel in single file through the snow, making a narrow trail on which the snow is packed as hard as a rock. When they come to a grass-grown slough or meadow they stay there until all the feed is exhausted and the whole area is compactly trampled down. Unlike the Western horses, which paw the snow away with their front feet, the buffalo uses its huge head as a shovel and scatters the snow in clouds in order to reach the grass beneath. When alarmed the old bulls stand on guard in the rear, while the cows and yearlings make good their escape.

We assume that steps will be taken to see that these herds and any others that may exist in the North, will be properly protected from hunters. They are never likely to become very numerous, even under the most stringent regulations, and they will not be of any special commercial value. Yet there is a strong sentimental reason why these survivors of the myriads of buffalo, which, within the memory of the present generation, roamed the prairies over an area of fully two million square miles in Canada and the United States, should not become wholly exterminated.

SAWDUST

There was a time when the only use any one had for sawdust was to pack it around ice or use in "banking" a house in the Winter time. There was a tradition that, in the form of pudding, it formed the chief article of editorial diet, but this may be regarded as a myth. Of course, the time may come when it will be converted into a breakfast food, but as yet no steps have been taken in that direction, so far as we know. But sawdust is far from now being practically a waste product. In a circular issued by the Department of the Interior, we are told that experiments, which promise to be very successful, are being carried on for the manufacture of ethyl alcohol from it. The sawdust is converted into sugar by being treated with sulphuric acid, this being fermented to produce alcohol. This is a line of industry that might well be inaugurated in this part of Canada. It is being used very extensively in Europe for the manufacture of briquets for fuel, and a beginning has been made in this line locally. We are told that in England sugar is manufactured on a commercial scale by treating sawdust in closed retorts with weak sulphurous acid under high pressure. In Austin, Texas, also a plant is being built to manufacture stock food from sawdust, by a somewhat similar process. The tar, pitch and turpentine are removed from the sawdust, leaving only sugar and fibre, to which is added forty per cent of cottonseed meal. The mixture is sold for fattening cattle. The Department concludes its circular by saying:

Two and one-half parts of clean sawdust mixed with two parts sand and one part cement make a warm long-wearing and sound-proof floor, to which carpets can be tacked with less injury than to a board floor, and which has the advantage over a cement floor in being more elastic. These qualities should win an extensive use for this form of flooring, which has the additional advantage that it can be stained to harmonize with interior finishings by the addition of color to the mixture while in a semi-liquid state.

The sawdust of certain kinds of wood is used in considerable quantities by manufacturers for metal polish, for packing, for meat curing, for making safety explosives, and composition novelties, and for fibre and pulp manufacture. Patent cleaning powders for use on carpets and rugs consist principally of sawdust, lightly moistened by some cheap mineral oil.

We are sure we express the wish of all citizens when we say we hope the visiting warships will lie off the mouth of the harbor at least a part of the time they are with us. Everyone wants to see them, especially when they show all their lights.

We have had some things to say about Canadian News which have not been what might be called complimentary, but we very heartily commend its new shibboleth, "Inquire first, invest afterwards." It is because so many persons reverse the process that they "come a cropper" in their investments.

Some ingenious ass in Washington wants people to think that the Monroe Doctrine is involved in the alleged intention of the British Government to strengthen the naval station at Bermuda. The next thing we will hear will be that the intention of some good people in this city to raise a Highland regiment is an infringement upon that time-honored doctrine, which, by the way, not half the people who talk about it can claim to understand.

A correspondent suggests that the new Liberal-Labor party, which Mr. Joseph Martin proposes to form in the United Kingdom, shall be called "The Party of the First Part." That's what it would be. Mr. Martin would be the party, no matter who might belong to it. His old friends will watch with interest the flight of the Stormy Petrel of Canadian politics. We venture to predict failure. Mr. Martin can only play a lone hand. He is constitutionally incapable of forming a party and keeping it together.

An impression seems to have been given to some people that the observations made in this paper in regard to the death of the late Dr. Watt, in some way reflect upon the Victoria Conservative Association. We had nothing of that kind in mind, nor were we thinking of any association. There was in the article an expression of opinion that no patronage committee ought to have a voice in naming the subordinate officers at the Quarantine Station. This had no reference to anything which had happened, but was only intended to indicate what we think would be a salutary rule for the future.

We are asked to assist in promoting Home Rule for Scotland, but must beg to be excused. From our knowledge of Scotsmen we have a shrewd suspicion that they can manage their own affairs without any help from us, but as the letter hints that a little "siller" will not be amiss in the campaign, we may mention that Mr. J. F. Robertson, general secretary and treasurer of the International Scots' Home Rule League, whose address is, 18 Warrender Park Crescent, Edinburgh, will receive and acknowledge any pecuniary or other assistance which friends of the movement may feel like sending him.

There are at present 136 Dreadnoughts built, building or projected. Forty-two of these either fly, or will fly the British flag. The average time occupied in the construction of each of these warships by the different nations is as follows: Great Britain, 26.9 months; Austria, 30.25; United States, 33; Germany, 35.5; France, 42; and Japan 49. It is significant to learn that Germany has the world's three largest battle-cruisers, each of which has a displacement of 30,000 tons and a horse-power of 100,000. Great Britain's most powerful battle-cruiser, the Tiger, has a displacement of 28,000 tons, and is engined with 110,000 horse-power.

PROVINCE TO TAKE OVER BRIDGE SCHEME

Proposal Brings Delegation Here—Premier Suggests a Less Expensive Structure Than the Original One.

As a result of an interview which the representatives of the Burrard Inlet Tunnel and Bridge Company had yesterday with the Executive Council of the Provincial Government, it is quite on the cards that the second Narrows Bridge proposition will be taken over by the Government and carried to completion under its auspices. There is no definite ground for making the statement absolutely, but the Premier himself stated yesterday that it had taken the matter into advisement and would announce its decision at an early date.

The subject had been on the tapis for some considerable time, but was brought to a head yesterday when the delegation composed of officers of the company and representatives of the municipalities interested waited on the government. Mr. F. Carter-Cotton, the president, introduced the delegation, and in doing so he explained something of the financial situation as it affects the proposed scheme.

After hearing the various speakers, Sir Richard McBride said that in the event of the Provincial Government taking over the construction of the bridge it was not likely that it would spend the sum upon it suggested in the original report made by the English engineers, which was $2,500,000. In fact he went so far as to say that the requirements of the situation could be met adequately for the next few years by a bridge of a much less expensive order than the one prescribed by Sir John Wolfe Barry.

Objections to this point of view were mentioned by Mr Carter-Cotton, who explained that if the bridge was not built according to the original design trouble might ensue with the Dominion authorities, and the design had met with particular favor with the Government's engineers. Another objection was that the municipalities which had subscribed stock might object to the transfer of the undertaking if the bridge to be constructed was of a less expensive type than the original.

The present situation in regard to the proposed bridge has been brought about by the fact that the cost of the bridge is more than the subscriptions amount to, and the municipalities interested are desirous of handing over their contributions, together with that of the Dominion Government, and having the Provincial Government complete the work.

As the cost of the bridge is likely to be the bone of contention in the matter, it is probable that several conferences will have to be held, as the Premier appeared satisfied yesterday that the initial proposal was too big.

Shortly after the guard of honor had taken its position, His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Paterson, accompanied by his private secretary, Mr. H. J. Muskett, arrived. He was received by Alderman H. Cuthbert, president of the Carnival Committee, His Worship Mayor Morley and other officials. As His Honor stepped out to inspect the guard, the band of H. M. S. New Zealand played "God Save the King," and Lieutenant Down and Captain Blount ordered the general salute. The Lieutenant-Governor passed down the lines, and, in one instance, engaged one of the sailors in a short conversation with regard to a medal received as a recognition of honorable active service. He complimented the officers of the two corps upon the splendid appearance of their commands.

Chairman's Remarks

Alderman Cuthbert, as president of the Carnival management, introduced the proceedings with a short address. He explained that the celebration which was being opened was a Water Carnival, and the first of its kind ever held in British Columbia or on the Pacific Coast. It was a high honor to those identified with the affair that it should be inaugurated by His Excellency the Duke of Connaught, through His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Paterson. In this connection he wished to say that, whenever the citizens of Victoria requested the assistance of Lieutenant-Governor Paterson in any public undertaking it was forthcoming. He entered into the spirit of anything the city undertook enthusiastically, and his aid always could be depended upon. He wanted to take advantage of the opportunity, on behalf of the committee, and he thought he might say of the whole of Victoria, to express appreciation of His Honor's kindness.

With regard to the Carnival, its inception and its object, he had a few words to say. In fairness to the members of the committee, who had worked so long, so earnestly and so faithfully in the effort to ensure the celebration being a success, he wished to declare that the undertaking was not sought. It was not of their own seeking, and they were not to be credited with its initiation. The suggestion, Ald. Cuthbert explained, came from a San Francisco gentleman who recently had visited Victoria in company with a party of Californians. This Southerner, Mr. Hathaway, had remarked the magnificent opportunity Victoria's natural attractions offered for the holding of some fete that would attract outsiders and advertise, in a broad way, the incomparable beauty of British Columbia's capital. The idea had taken root. Mr. Hathaway's observation had borne fruit. It was thought that something should be done to bring people to the city and to give them, in addition to the climate and the scenery, something to make such an impression that it would be carried away, talked about and converted into the best possible advertisement of Victoria's claims as the banner tourist resort of the Pacific Northwest that could be obtained.

Months of Work

With this in view, the committee had gone to work. For seven months its members had labored hard, and it was their conviction, although there was no question that mistakes might be found, that they had been able to provide a week's entertainment of which citizens could justly be proud. Ald. Cuthbert drew attention to the encouragement and assistance received from public-spirited people to the south of the line, and particularly to the splendid testimonial of goodwill from Mr. Hathaway in the shape of a loving cup. It was on exhibition, and he thought that everybody would be repaid by inspecting it. This, besides the fact of the presence in Victoria waters of the U. S. S. West Virginia, with Admiral Reynolds in command, was a striking exemplification of the hearty co-operation that might be expected from adjacent Coast centres in all of Victoria's efforts to build up a great city.

Ald. Cuthbert dwelt on the programme. He asked those present to inspect it carefully. He declared that all through it there could be found nothing that would offend the most fastidious. There was nothing but would tend to improve the mind and body. It was a carnival of sports and athletics, features that would take the people out into the sunshine. This was a matter which the organizers always had before them. Their contention, and that of Victorians generally, was that there was no cleaner city, no city better lighted and no city better paved on the Pacific Coast. Their position, as well, was that there was no community so richly endowed with beautiful surroundings as Victoria. And so, in the entertainments provided, the design was to keep the visitors out of doors. They were to be taken to Oak Bay, Cadboro Bay and other seaside suburbs and given actual demonstration that there was no city better equipped for the rearing of families in health and vigor, physically and mentally. (Applause.)

Concluding, he asked Victorians to overlook any mistakes or any oversights that might be apparent as the festivities progressed, and to bear in mind that those responsible, although not pretending to be professional Carnival managers, had given a great deal of time and thought during seven months to the effort to provide the city with a celebration of which it could be proud. (Applause.) He called on the Lieutenant-Governor to open the Carnival.

Carnival Formally Opened

Lieutenant-Governor Paterson was very brief in his observations. He first extended a hearty welcome to the officers and men both of H. M. S. New Zealand and U. S. S. West Virginia. The presence of these two vessels was a happy demonstration of Canada's good terms with all interests on both the Atlantic and the Pacific seaboards.

He had pleasure, on this occasion, to have received a message of goodwill from His Excellency the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada, which he read. It follows:

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor,
Government House,
Victoria B. C.:

I wish Victoria Carnival Week every success.

(Signed) ARTHUR.

His Honor thereupon formally declared the Carnival open.

A few remarks were made by His Worship Mayor Morley, who was called on by Ald. Cuthbert to respond to the address of the Lieutenant-Governor. He said that, as the representative of the citizens of Victoria, he could express the warmest possible appreciation of the kind greetings extended by His Royal Highness and of the similar sentiments of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor. He thought also that Victorians generally were exceedingly grateful to members of the committee of management for their energy and their work in the effort to produce a celebration that would be an outstanding credit to the community. From what he had seen of the programme he was sure that success had crowned their endeavors, and he was certain that the people would do the rest by entering into the spirit of the fete whole-heartedly, determined both to enjoy themselves and to give their visitors a good time. Beyond a question the Carnival had started well, and he was convinced that it would be carried through to just as satisfactory a conclusion.

As Lieutenant-Governor Paterson left the stand the band of H. M. S. New Zealand again rendered "God Save the King." His departure was the signal for a general dispersal, the sailors and marines boarding special cars for Esquimalt, while the 5th Regiment, to the martial strains of its band, marched to the Drill Hall.

AMUSEMENTS

Princess Theatre—"Polly of the Circus," one of the best known of comedy dramas, had its first representation by the Williams players last evening. It has just been released for stock, and Mr. Williams was the first to secure it. The story tells of a young girl named Polly, who is traveling with a small circus. In a country town Polly gets badly hurt, and is carried to the house of the minister. He happens to be a young man, and the village gossips get busy. His congregation gives him his choice of turning Polly out or losing his clerical position. He refuses to do the first, and in the end wins his point. One of the scenes in the play shows the circus grounds, the entrance to the side show, with the fat woman and the skeleton, and the entrance to the dressing rooms. Miss Page was very winning in the part of Polly, and handled her slang phrases daintily. Mr. Mitchell played the young minister with earnestness and sincerity. Mr. Sullivan was excellent as the clown. The country boy of Mr. H. Horn was true to life, and Mr. Williams did the ballyhooing in good old-fashioned circus style, while the rest of the company were as usual admirable. "Polly of the Circus" mingles comedy, here and there a touch of pathos, and many thrilling situations, thereby giving a refreshing variety, which was much appreciated last evening.

"Variety Isle"—The second week of the Frank Rich Company at the Victoria Theatre started last night with quite a pretentious production of a tropical bill, entitled "Variety Isle." This show is, perhaps, the best that the company has yet offered, and the stage settings and costumes are above the ordinary. The musical numbers are tuneful and catchy, and the work of the chorus is especially good: Geo. A. Burton, the principal comedian, is indeed funny as the German, who nearly becomes a king, and he is ably seconded by Tommy Burns, who has already won a host of friends. Messrs. Post and Harrison are both well cast, and taken altogether "Variety Isle" is well forth seeing. The bill will run till Thursday, with a matinee on Wednesday. The change of bill for Thursday is "A Scotch High Ball."

Month's Accidents—Of the fifty-one accidents and kindred cases which were reported to the police during July, first aid was administered by the police in thirty-nine. The cases reported were caused as follows: Motor cars, nine; horse vehicles, five; electric cars, one; factories, five; drowning, two; bicycles, two; pedestrians, twenty-seven. First aid was given in the following cases: Vehicles, nine; buildings, factories, etc., five, insanity, four; delerium tremens, three; sudden attacks, seventeen; drowning, two.

Homing Pigeon Flight—On Sunday at 12:21 p.m., forty-one pigeons were let loose from the deck of the G. T. P. steamer Prince George when the ship was directly opposite Port Townsend by a member of the newly-organized Victoria Homing Society. The birds were all under three months of age, and this was their first flight. Several of them belonging to F. Smith and Bossom Brothers reached their lofts early in the afternoon, but others did not return until this morning. The results are considered very satisfactory for a first flight of young birds, especially as the day was exceedingly hazy.

A Great Artist—After a concert given by Mr. Clarence Eddy at the Paris Exposition of 1889, Alexander Guilmant, the great composer, and the most famous French organist, paid him the following tribute: "Mr. Eddy's great virtuosity and his masterly interpretations elicited the warmest applause. We were astonished at the ease with which he was able to control the magnificent instrument of Cavaille-Coll, knowing that he had barely a few hours in which to familiarize himself with all its resources. He is a great artist." Mr. Eddy comes to this city to open the large new organ for St. John's Church on August 11 and 12.

Good Car Service—Yesterday afforded an opportunity for a test of the efficiency of the car service during Carnival Week, and on all sides praise was heard for the manner in which the traffic department of the B.C. Electric Railway Company had risen to the occasion. Despite the fact that at certain hours of the day the crush of patrons was greater than at any time on record possibly, good accommodation was furnished to all. Every bit of rolling stock has been impressed into service for this week, and a number of men are working overtime. It is also worthy of mention that visitors from the other side of the line are loud in praise of the unfailing courtesy of the men in charge of the cars.

Officer Stops Runaway—Jumping for the head of the frightened animal just as it was turning onto the sidewalk and heading straight for the windows of the offices of Messrs. Green & Burdick, corner of Lower Fort and Langley Streets, yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, James Palmeh, inspector of licensed vehicles, by his promptness and nerve stopped a runaway in the nick of time. The horse, attached to a delivery rig, broke away from its fastening on Langley Street, becoming startled at a passing motor. It was in full career south along Langley Street when a passing rig deflected its course and turned it into the sidewalk. Inspector Palmer, who was passing, jumped at the animal's head, and catching the bridle brought the beast to a standstill a foot or two from the windows of the adjacent building.

July Police Returns—During July a total of 262 cases were dealt with in the local police court. Arrests numbered 146 and summons cases 53. Convictions were 177, and 22 accused were discharged. The cases were classifed according to offences, as follows: Assault, eight; motor act, sixteen; breaking and entering, one; creating disturbance, three; carrying concealed weapons, one; City by-laws, twenty-two; drunks, 109; embezzlement, two dentistry act, three; fighting, five; keeping disorderly house, one; liquor license act, three; Lord's Day act, one; opium act, four; obtaining money by false pretense, one; obstructing police, one; in possession of stolen property, one; refusing to support family, two; supplying intoxicants to Indians, one; safe-keeping, sixty; threatening language, three; unsound mind, three; vagrancy, eight. The patrol made 273 runs during the month.

Relics of Past Days—In the razing of the old First Presbyterian Church on Pandora Avenue yesterday morning, interesting documents placed beneath the corner stone in 1863 were disclosed. These consisted of a brief history of the organization of the First Presbyterian church, on parchment, and containing among others the names of Rev. John Hall, the first pastor, who was sent out from Ireland by the mission branch of the Irish Presbyterian church; Chief Justice Cameron, and, of those still living, Alexander Wilson, of this city, and George H. Sanders, of San Francisco. A second parchment document contained a copy of the first annual report of the church, with the signatures of the same church officers and laymen as contained on the other document. Both of these manuscripts were in excellent condition, and might have been taken from an envolope closed within the last few days. Copies of the local papers of the period were also among the contents of the envelope, comprising the following: Victoria Daily Chronicle, of April 9, 1863; Daily British Colonist, April 8; British Columbian, of New Westminster, April 4, and The San Francisco Bulletin of March 28.

BLAMES WATER FOR LOSS OF BUSINESS

Messrs. Thorpe & Co. Seek Ten Thousand Dollars Damages for Alleged Loss Because of Inferior Water.

Claiming that by reason of the fact that Elk Lake water, "stagnant and putrid" was supplied them when the recent break in the mains of the Esquimalt Waterworks shut off the Goldstream supply, and recourse had to be had to the Elk Lake source, Messrs. Thorpe & Company, soda water manufacturers, have put in a claim for damages to the amount of $10,000. Notice of the claim was yesterday received by the city from Messrs. Oliver & Patton, solicitors for the complaining firm.

The claim sets forth that when the city resorted to the use of water from the mains of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company the main from the Elk Lake source had to be again placed in use on July 23, the "stagnant and putrid" water in the mains was supplied to Messrs. Thorpe & Company, with the result, it is alleged, that great damage was done to the firm's business. Goods affected by this inferior quality of water were sold to the trade, and since July 23 the firm has been unable to manufacture goods with the city supply of water, and has been compelled to purchase water from another source at the rate of 25,000 gallons per month, the breach of contract on the part of the city to supply the firm with marketable water having continued. It is claimed that because of this impure water supply the firm's business in Victoria, Vancouver, Nelson, and, in fact, throughout the Province, has been seriously affected, and represents a loss to Messrs. Thorpe & Company of $10,000. Unless a settlement is arrived at, action, it is stated by the solicitors of the firm, will be instituted immediately.

SUCCESSFUL OPENING

Crowds Throng New Kinemacolor Theatre and Find Enjoyment in High-Class Bill

Instant and hearty was the reception which the public yesterday accorded the latest venture in the local amusement world, the Kinemacolor Theatre, at the corner of Government and Cormorant Streets. The well designed and exceptionally artistic theatre was thronged throughout the afternoon and evening and the high-class pictures shown were thoroughly enjoyed. At this time, when warships form such a large attraction, it was but fitting that one of the chief films shown was that entitled "Watch-Dogs of the World," being a view of the great battle squadron gathered at the review at Spithead some years ago. Travelogue, in the shape of excellent and instructive Egyptian pictures, as well as a Pathe Weekly, and some beautiful floral effects to demonstrate the wonderful Kinemacolor process, furnished a programme thoroughly enjoyable from start to finish. Other films equally interesting filled out a highly meritorious entertainment.

Lazzarino Dorticolo Probably Fatally Injured When Lamp Explodes in Pandora Avenue Dwelling

His clothing becoming ignited through the explosion of a lamp, Lazzarino Dorticolo, an Italian, aged 26 years, was seriously, and probably fatally, burned in his room at 755 Pandora Avenue last evening at 8:15 o'clock. It was not until after the fire, which started in the dwelling occupied by Dorticolo and three other Italians, had been put out by the fire department that the injured man was discovered in the rear of the premises, where he had rushed following the explosion, and where, after two of his friends had put out the fire in his clothing, he was left by them. He was nearly unconscious from pain, and his face, neck and body so badly burned that on his removal to the Royal Jubilee Hospital his chances of recovery were pronounced as very slight.

Dorticolo and two friends were in an upstairs room of the two-story frame dwelling. A coal oil lamp was lighted, but as there was little oil in it Dorticolo attempted to fill it without first putting out the flame. While he was in the act of filling the lamp it exploded, the blazing oil being hurled over his clothing and about the room. The two friends ran out of the room and down stairs to the rear. Dorticolo, his clothing ablaze, rushed after them and got to the yard at the rear when he collapsed. His friends succeeded in tearing off the greater portion of his burning clothing, and then, leaving him, ran out onto the street.

In the meantime flames breaking through the windows of the house on the Pandora Avenue side alarmed passers-by, who sent in an alarm, the fire department quickly responding. In a few minutes the blaze was out with comparatively little damage being done to the premises. One of the firemen on making the rounds of the place found Dorticolo at the rear. The police patrol was summoned and prompt first-aid measures were taken by Sergeant Carson, Constable Heatley and Patrol Driver Caldwell, Dorticolo being stripped, and his burns, which practically covered the whole body, treated wtih Carron oil. He was wrapped in blankets and rushed to the hospital, where he was attended to by Dr. Wainwright. At an early hour this morning Dorticolo was reported by the hospital authorities as alive but in a serious condition.

The dwelling, which is owned by L. Quagliotti, was damaged to the extent of about $100.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Merchants' Holiday—The Retail Merchants' Association has decided to observe Friday, August 8, as a public holiday.

Refer Plans to Expert—At a special meeting of the Board of School Trustees held yesterday afternoon the competitive plans for the proposed new Hollywood School were considered, a report from the committee to which the plans were recently referred being before the board. It was decided that four plans should be submitted to Mr. W. Young, architect, of Vancouver, and on his report on which of these is the plan most suitable, the board will act. A special meeting of the board will be held next week, when Mr. Young's report will be considered.

San Franciscan Here—Rev. Dr. Clampett, of San Francisco, is staying at the Empress Hotel. He is the special representative of the San Francisco Panama Exposition, and was deputed to attend the Victoria Carnival Week in that capacity. He is also deputizing Mr. L. W. Hathaway, who discovered at the last moment that stress of business would not allow him to make the trip north, as he had intended, to present his beautiful trophy. Dr. Clampett brings with him the very best wishes of the "Flying Legion" of his home city, together with the courteous greetings of San Franciscans generally on the occasion of Victoria's first annual Carnival.

Girls and Fruit Picking—Miss Ella C. Sykes, honorary delegate of the Colonial Intelligence League, and noted traveler and writer, who addressed the Woman's Canadian Club recently and has since been traveling on Vancouver Island, writes to correct an impression in Vancouver that the Colonial Intelligence League for Educated Women, whose chairman is the Hon. Mrs. Norman Grosvenor, has sent girls from England to British Columbia to engage in fruit picking. Miss Sykes states that the league has not been instrumental in sending any women for such purposes during 1912 and 1913. During her present tour of the Province, Miss Sykes has visited many farms and ranches in which women are interested, and on many of which women are employed as workers, and has personally inspected fruit picking. She considers it, generally speaking, an unsuitable occupation for educated women fresh to the country and unused to its conditions.

They will return via Toronto, where they will meet Mr. Finch's mother. They intend being absent from Victoria from six to eight weeks.

The Frederickton, N.B., Gleaner, in its issue of July 25, had the following: "Frederickton's social circle is bubbling with excitement over the announcement of the engagement of Miss Nan Thompson, daughter of Senator F. P. Thompson, and Hon. F. B. Gregory, judge of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, who is here from Victoria, B.C. on a holiday trip. 'Just come to visit the old home and to see how all you boys are feeling,' was the judge's explanation to his old friends of his visit to Frederickton when he arrived this week, but yesterday he was receiving congratulations upon the announcement of his engagement to Miss Thompson, who is one of Frederickton's most charming and talented young ladies, and it is said that the wedding will take place early in September. Miss Thompson is in St. John today.

MAINLAND SEWERAGE SCHEME FACILITATED

Provincial Government May Endorse Advance Note for Half Million to Finance the Burrard Peninsula Scheme.

The Provincial Government has under consideration the endorsing of notes to the extent of half a million dollars in order that the Burrard Peninsula sewerage scheme may be forwarded without delay. The commissioners will forthwith apply to the bank for the necessary advance, and the extensive undertaking embodied in the scheme will be commenced without delay.

Announcement to this effect was made possible yesterday after the commissioners had had an interview with the Premier, Sir Richard McBride, and the Attorney-General, Hon. W. J. Bowser.

Other features of the sewerage work discussed related to the title of the commission, and the phases of the work to be tackled first. In regard to the latter it was announced by Mr. Frank Bowser, chairman of the board, that China Creek and Canoe Creek would be the first sections to be handled by the contractors, once the loan was successfully negotiated. With reference to the title of the commission it was thought that Greater Vancouver Sewerage Commission would better describe the nature and scope of the body charged with the administration of the scheme.

In Women's Realm

Thanksgiving

I thank God when I kneel to pray
That mine is still the middle way.

Set in a safe and sweet estate
Between the little and the great.

Not troubled with wealth's cares, nor yet
Too poor, where needs that cark and fret

Push out sweet leisure and green nooks,
And give no chance for talk or books.

I take my middle way between
The mansion and a lodging mean.

My cottage at the country's edge
Hath sweetbrier growing in its hedge.

Honesty, heartsease, and sweet-peas,
Herb-bennet, love-in-idleness.

Give me a tree, a well, a hive,
And I can save my soul alive.

And be as poor in spirit as
The Poverello's lady was.

I covet not smooth silk nor lace
Nor any lovely lady's face.

Nor yet would go in hodden gray,
But lawns and wool be my array.

I thank God that my modest place
Is set amid much pleasantness.

And not too high and not too low
The safe, untroubled path I go.

—Katherine Tynan.

Grand Duchess Olga

The Grand Duchess Olga.

The Tzar's eldest daughter, the Grand Duchess Olga, has recently been made chief of the 3rd Regiment of Hussars of Elizabethgrad.

In November, the young lady will have reached her eighteenth birthday, and rumor has been busy with surmises as to her future husband. She is beautiful and talented, and, it is possible, may desire to have a part in the choice of her future husband.

The newspapers are circulating a rumor that Prince Charles of Roumania will be the successful suitor; but nothing authoritative has been given out.

The Russian Grand Duchess is very nearly related to our own Princess Mary. One grandmother is a sister of the Queen-Mother Alexandra, and the other was the beloved Princess Alice of Hesse, a daughter of Queen Victoria, who married one of the lesser German princes.

It is to be hoped that wherever the Princess Olga may go, her future will be a happy one. Her girlhood has been passed in the shadow of danger, for the Russian royal family have for many years been almost prisoners in their own palaces. Only the affection they have for each other has made life endurable to the Tzar, the Tzarina and their children.

Should the Princess Olga go to the court of Roumania, the young girl will find in the accomplished Queen, Carmen Sylvia, on who possesses that gift of loving sympathy that bridges over the gulf which too often divides the people from their rulers.

Importing Feathers

The caucus of the United States Senate has agreed to strike out the clause in the tariff bill forbidding the importation of plumage intended for millinery. Dr. Hornaday, director of New York Zoological Park, and a noted naturalist, is leading an agitation against the decision. He states that the best of the women of the nation are in favor of the passage of the bill.

If this were true there would be no need of passing the bill. No one would want to import feathers unless a very large proportion of the women of the nation wanted to buy them.

There can be no question that women are responsible for the slaughter of birds whose brilliant or graceful plumage is suitable for the adornment of hats or bonnets. Perhaps the day will come when the fashionable world will look upon the killing of litte birds for adornment as we now do upon the tatooing of the face or the wearing of rings in the lips or noses. There is this difference, however. The South Sea Islanders hurt no one but themselves, while modern women cause the death of beautiful and innocent creatures, and, if we may believe the scientists, are indirectly responsible for the decrease in the fruitfulness of the soil. Most of the birds so ruthlessly destroyed in order to supply milliners with plumage are insectivorous, and it is impossible to artificially protect the farmer and fruitgrower from the pests the birds destroy in vast numbers.

There is plumage that is the product of birds used for food, but, however beautiful, most of this is wasted. Furs and feathers are becoming scarcer every year, and though it is inevitable that as civilization advances many wild animals, as well as birds, shall become extinct, there are others which are not only innocent, but useful.

In these days there are many products of the loom suitable for almost all purposes of clothing and adornment, and women should see to it that there is no needless waste of life in order that their vanity and love of luxury shall be gratified.

The Domestic Worker

There is a hopeful ring about the following paragraph taken from The Toronto Telegram. It would have been satisfactory if the writer could have added that the great majority of those who do "housework" in order to earn money to enter upon some more congenial or remunerative employment are rendering faithful service to their employers.

It is not often, we may be sure, that those who are careless or idle are able to save money enough to enter upon a course of training for what they, and, to tell the truth, the majority of womankind, consider more honorable callings. The Telegram says:

"Women do 'housework' in Canada. It is not a 'service,' as understood in the older countries. It promises little, and is regarded as temporary. In Winnipeg, as all over the West, the most desirable servant is the ambitious woman or man who is saving money to secure an education, to enable them to acquire a trade or a position of greater independence. It is to their credit that it is so. They are typical of the country, where every one hopes to improve his or her condition, buoyed up with the knowledge that there are no 'class' limitations. Your waitress of today is the trained nurse of tomorrow. It is that spirit and that hope on which Canada builds her future. There are no 'serving classes,' but we pin our faith to useful service, congenial employment. The very restlessness of the maid in the house is an evidence of the great, hopeful age in which we live, the democracy of the Dominion, which renders it so attractive to the people of all countries."

Social Centres

It is still Midsummer, and we have before us many weeks of fine, bright days. But there will come long, dark nights and rainy weather when people must seek amusement and recreation indoors.

Why should there not be in different parts of the city social centres where people could meet, instead of coming into the city when they want company. It may be said that every home should be such a centre, and this is true. The mother is foolish who does not do all in her power to make her own parlor a meeting place for the companions of her children, but the father should be their best friend and comrade.

But there are needs which, with the best will in the world, the home cannot always satisfy. Young people, and older ones too, need some common meeting place where they can enjoy good music, receive instruction in literature or science, or have access to books and papers or, perhaps it may be, have the opportunity for games and dancing.

It is not always desirable that such diversion or opportunity for self-improvement shall be sought in the city. Good plays and high-class concerts can only be held in places built specially for the purpose of holding them, and theatres and concert rooms for the whole city will and should be patronized.

On the other hand, there are temptations in the city to young people of both sexes who are looking for diversion that would not exist in the neighborhood of their own homes, where their pleasures are shared by their elders.

In many cities in the Old Country there are parish clubs where the clergymen and other prominent people work with the more intelligent residents of a district to form a social centre and a hall is provided and fitted up.

Of late years it has been decided in many cities of the United States that the schoolhouses which are the people's property would make admirable meeting places for the people of the neighborhood in which they are situated. It is a pity, such people argue, that expensive buildings should remain idle except during school hours.

The matter is one that our own citizens would do well to consider. Many fine, new buildings are being put up in the residential districts at various points at a distance from the business sections of the town. Would it be wise to throw these open to the people for use in the evenings? So far, this has not been done, except for political meetings. How would it do for the people of a school district to get together and form a committee who should consider whether or not the schoolhouse is needed by the adults, and, if it is, to form a definite plan of entertainment. There can be little doubt that the school board would consent to the use of the buildings under proper restrictions and regulations.

Sacrifices His Life for Children

Thousands of Londoners lined the route taken by the funeral procession of Major Meiklejohn, V.C. The gallant major had faced death so often that its grim novelty passed. But the people who bared their heads as he went through London were thinking less of his battle honors than of the last great honor of all, when he laid down his life for children in a London park. Major Meiklejohn was riding through Hyde Park to attend a review of the University of London Officers' training corps. Suddenly his horse bolted, taking fright at the band. Straight ahead was a clear gallop, and a chance to pull up. But there were children in the way; some of them might be hurt, and with his one arm the major wrenched the horse's head aside and set it for the railings. He knew the horse could never jump them. It was certain death, and he knew it.

INTERNATIONAL REGATTA OPENS

Motor Boat Races on Yesterday's Carnival Sports Programme—Loulinda First in From Vancouver Yacht Club.

Signalizing the rise of the curtain on Victoria's inaugural week of Carnival, the International Regatta, held under the auspices of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, opened yesterday in weather ideal for sailing, but hardly conducive to record breaking performances in motor boating, to which class of competition the day's programme was restricted. The high wind was not a serious deterrent to the sport, however, and while it lessened the speed of all the competitors, it did not prevent two of them, the Ailsa II. and the Sealark, from engaging in a very pretty race for the honors in the auxiliary sailing yacht run from Cadboro Bay to Victoria.

Of the two other events on the programme, the Martin and Hathaway Cup power boat races from Vancouver and Seattle respectively, the latter, it is presumed, was postponed for a day, for no American boats had reached the finishing line at a late hour last night. Three boats entered in the 80-mile trip from Vancouver, and all three reached their destination in good time, despite a head wind and tide. Starting at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, the Loulinda, owned and piloted by Mr. Langlois, finished at 4 o'clock in the afternoon; the Ethelda came in half a hour later, and the Walionda, Mr. Gordon's boat, was last, about three-quarters of an hour behind the Ethelda.

There were five entrants in the event over the Cadboro Bay-Victoria Harbor course for auxiliary sailing yachts under power, but only two finished. The other three found the wind too strong to beat up against, and hoisted their canvas when but a little way out of the bay. A start was made at 3:10 in the afternoon, and the Ailsa II., which is a Vancouver boat owned by Mr. Brydone-Jack, crossed the line off the Outer Wharf at 4:38¾, with the Sealark, the property of Mr. H. J. Muskett, of this city, just one minute behind her. The other entrants were the Ivanhoe, T. Tinn, Victoria; the Doris, M. McDonald, Victoria; and the Norn, W. R. Headley, Seattle.

It being a light day for the yachtsmen yesterday, the American and Vancouver visitors, of whom there are quite a number in town, had plenty of time to inspect the much-vaunted new home of the Victoria yachtsman, and they satisfied themselves that its beauties had not been over-rated. After a tour of observation, they pronounced it the snuggest, most advantageously situated club on the Coast, and almost went into raptures over the charming outlook on all sides.

Montreal Moulders' Strike

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—Moulders engaged in a number of city foundries went out on strike today on receiving a deaf ear to their demand that ten hour day be reduced to nine hours. The strike affects seven foundry companies, but the employers declared tonight that they could get on without the men and that the strikers' places would be filled immediately, so as not to interfere with the operation of their works.

Athletic Records Broken

MANCHESTER, August 4.—At a professional athletic meeting here today, Jack Donaldson, of Australia, world's champion sprinter broke the 300 yards running record made by H. Hutchins by half a yard in 29 3-4 seconds. Hutchin's time was thirty seconds, and has stoo since 1884. G. Cummings did the mile walk in six minutes 23 seconds, which beats the amateur record of six minutes twenty-five and four-fifths seconds made at Toronto June fourth, 1910, by Geo. Goulding, and equals the professional record of W. Perkins, England, made in 1874.

VICTORIA GIRL SAVES LIFE OF SEATTLE MAN

Mrs. Clarence Wilson, Formerly of This City, Rescues Drowning Man at Seattle Natatorium

Mrs. Clarence Wilson, formerly Miss Laura Cameron, of this city, but now of Seattle, distinguished herself at the Natatorium at the Sound terminal last week by saving the life of an exhausted swimmer in the large tank. Miss Cameron, who learned the art in this city through the efforts of Mr. Ian St. Clair, the well-known swimming instructor of the public schools, has a powerful stroke, and had little difficulty in bringing the swimmer, who had gone beyond his limit, to safe ground. There were not many present at the time, and the rescued gentleman had given up his desperate attempt to save himself.

Like hundreds of others in this city, and those who have now grown up and left for other climes, Miss Cameron stands out as one example of the yeoman service this city has been done by her advanced preliminary training in the schools in life-saving and swimming, brought about by one person, Mr. St. Clair.

MEDICINE HAT SENDS ATHLETES TO MEET

In addition to the many entries received last week from every city on the Coast for the track and field meet which takes place in this city on Thursday, have come the names of several star sprinters from Medicine Hat, who are members of the Volunteer Fire Department of that city and are here to compete with local firemen in hose laying competitions. The visitors are said to be champions of their district in field and track events, and consider that they have an excellent chance in making a showing against the athletes who will be seen here this week.

Those entered are A. Halward, S. C. Taylor, 100 yards; A. Halward, S. C. Taylor, W. A. Collier, J. Williamson, 220 yards; W. A. Collier, A. C. Taylor, S. C. Taylor, A. Halward, relay race; A. Halward, J. Taylor, 1-2 mile; J. Willy, 1 mile walk.

The California athletes, including George Horine, champion high jumper of the world, and Ralph Rose, world's champion weight thrower, will reach the city this morning. In fact, all the visiting athletes are expected today, with the final contingent possibly from Seattle and Vancouver tomorrow morning.

ing programme of swimming, the Vancouver water polo team outplayed the locals at the Gorge yesterday afternoon before a large crowd. The score was In the principal event of an interest- 4 to 0, and the match proved a splendid climax to an afternoon of exceptionally fine swimming and diving, the latter being of the highest order and requiring a second trial for three events, to decide on the winners of second and third places. The relay race, three men a side, was also run off twice owing to a protest, and was finally won by the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club.

Probably the most exciting race of the afternoon was the one last mentioned. Five teams entered, and although in the first race the judges gave a close decision to the Victoria team, others were of the opinion that the race was a dead heat between the Vancouver Y.M.C.A. and the locals. It was claimed a few minutes later, after the arrival of the judges' boat from the other end of the course, that Vancouver would be disqualified, because of one man having left before his teammate reached the starting float. The Vancouver captain at once issued a protest to this, the result being that a meeting of the judges was immediately held, and it was decided that the race be run over. The Terminal City boys lost their chance for the race when L. Smith, swimming second on his team, with a big lead and by far the most powerful stroke, got off his course and lost many yards for his team. J. D. McNeill was the hero of the local team, his finishes in each instance, as last man, were remarkably strong, and his work in the first as well as the last race, spelt victory for the locals.

There was much disappointment in the fact that at the last minute the J.B.A.A. swimming team was debarred from entering a team in the relay race. It seems that H. Skuce, secretary of the club, had sent in his application for recognition from the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association over a month ago, and it had not been acted upon to this date. However, this was through no fault of the J.B.A.A. Club, and as the sanction was not at hand, the representatives present decided that the Bays would have to stand out.

"Jamie" Cameron was the winner of the diving competition, owing to his steadiness throughout the competition. Each successive dive brought a good average mark, while other competitors made perfect dives and fell down badly in others. This was the case with Frank Crompton, whose defective second dive brought down his score considerably. Cameron's fancy dives included three, the handstand, jack-knife and backward pike dive. In the four dives Cameron averaged over seven points to the trial. He was given an average total of twenty-nine and one-half points. Crompton, Godfrey and Baldwin, tied for second honors with twenty-eight and one-half each, and they were forced to again take another turn on the spring board, Crompton taking second place and Baldwin third. It may be said in Crompton's favor that in this second exhibition he entered the water three times in four perfectly, getting ten points to the dive with one judge, but on the fourth he was given eight points. Ten is the possible mark.

In the polo game, Vancouver played a very fast forward line, their swimmers being stronger in the water and too much for the local backs to properly check. Victoria's goal tender made the score look much better than what it might have been by some sensational blocking, saving many shots. Foster scored three of Vancouver's goals, and was instrumental in getting the fourth, the ball being shoved through by Warn, who took a pass from Foster. Victoria's attack was weak, very few dangerous shots being made.

The referee was called upon to blow his whistle too often for fouling, the fans sometimes getting restless over the many delays during the match.

In the race which brought together members of the police force and fire department, the former were by far the leaders in handling themselves with a breast stroke. The race was run in two heats, A. C. Sutton, taking the first easily, as well as the final. H. Anderson, Victoria fire department, was the winner of the second heat, but was forced to third place in the final. F. Smith showed a flash of speed on the home stretch and beat the fireman out. The time for the final was slower than for the heats being 3:46.

Miss Mary Beaton, R. L. S. S. (of Scotland, diploma holder of the Royal Life Saving Society, assisted by Miss Madge Griffin and Mr. Fulard-Leo, ex-champion swimmer of the world and originator of the famous crawl stroke, gave an interesting exhibition of fancy and scientific swimming. Miss Beaton gave a demonstration of life-saving that was instructive from the outset. Miss Griffin assisted Miss Beaton in this part of her performance.

This acquatic programme is the first of several to be held at the Gorge this week.

OPENING GAME IN POLO SERIES

Victoria Gains Initial Victory Over Cowichan by Four Goals to Two—Fine Play by Both Backs.

Victoria and Cowichan opened the series of matches for the B. C. polo championship at the Willows yesterday afternoon, and those who were present had the pleasure of seeing Victoria victorious after a hard-fought game, played in the best of spirit on either side.

Victoria was represented by Dr. Richards (captain) at No. 4; Mr. A. MacKenzie, No. 3; Mr. A. H. Gunn, No. 2, and Mr. A. B. Irving at No. 1.

Cowichan had their captain, Mr. A. Kennington, at No. 4, with Messrs. E. E. Knight No. 3; J. R. Boothby, No. 2, and G. Gore-Langton at No. 1.

Shortly after the match had started the Cowichan team, getting into their stride, scored their first goal, perhaps before Victoria had found their legs. Then to the end of the second chucker the score remained unchanged, and in the next period of play Mr. Irving equalized for Victoria. Dr. Richards had been playing a sound defensive game all along, and the Cowichan No. 4, in the fourth chucker, was responsible for the finest goal got that day. He hit off from the water tower goal, and, following up, took the ball right down the field with three hits and finished off with an accurate shot at goal. However, Victoria, through Mr. Irving's agency, scored again before the end of the chucker, and the score when the teams turned out for the final chucker stood level.

From then things rather went Victoria's way, though each goal was attacked in quick succession. A third goal came from Mr. Irving's stick, to be quickly followed by a fourth got from a standing melee in goal by the same player, who was thus credited with all the four goals scored by Victoria.

This morning the polo match between Vancouver and Kamloops will start about 11, and at 10:30 an exhibition of jumping will be given in a competition for silver medals given by the Polo Club. Miss McGee is also announced to make an ascent in a flying machine from the grounds at 10:30.

VICTORIA SWIMMERS AT PORT ALBERNI MEET

British Columbia Swimming Championships—Victoria and Vancouver in Keen Struggle

Vancouver captured four of the seven events at the British Columbia amateur swimming championship meet at Port Alberni on Saturday last, Victoria winning the remainder of the events. The locals took the relay race, the diving and 440 yards open. Vancouver got the lead by running up a ten-goal score on the local boys against one goal in the polo match.

The meet was well conducted, and, while the up-Island swimmers were not successful in gaining any of the championships, they won praise for the excellence of all arrangements in connection with the tournament.

The following are the complete results:

50 yards championship—1, Baldwin, Vancouver Y. M. C. A.; 2, Lee Smith, Vancouver Y. M. C. A.; 3, Godfrey, Victoria.

100 yards, open—1, Forster, Vancouver A. S. C.; 2, Baldwin, Vancouver Y. M. C. A.; 3, Godfrey, Victoria.

Diving—1, Cameron, Victoria; 2, Neilson, Port Alberni; 3, H. R. Kenvyn, Vancouver A. S. C.

440, open—1, McNeil, Victoria A. S. C.; 2, Clarke, Victoria Y. M. C. A.; 3, Forster, Vancouver A. S. C.

Life-saving—E. W. Hollingum, Vancouver A. S. C.

Relay championship — 1, Victoria A. S. C.; 2, Vancouver Y. M. C. A.; 3, Vancouver A. S. C.

FOR AUSTRALIAN TITLE

SYDNEY, N. S. W., August 4.—Exceptional interest is being taken in the fight scheduled for next week between Hughie Mehegan and Matt Wells, for the lightweight championship of Australia. The press representatives say an even greater crowd than attended the Johnson-Burns fight will witness the contest. With the exception of the Burns-Johnson fight the Mehegan-Wells fight is the most important ever staged in this country.

At the stadium on Saturday night Bud Burns, the Englishman, easily outpointed Young Nipper in a 20-round bout.

ED BRYNJOLFSON IN PAID RANKS

Victoria Amateur Decides to Become Professional—Will Probably Play for Vancouver in Wednesday's Game Here.

Another of the players of the Victoria amateur lacrosse team has decided to turn professional in the person of Edward Brynjolfson, who will probably appear on the home of the Vancouver lacrosse team when it plays here against Westminster tomorrow afternoon at Oak Bay park. Brynjolfson has been desirous of swinging over to the "pro" ranks for some time, and his move does not come as much of a surprise. Local fans will doubtless turn out in force to see the match, now that three Victorians instead of two are numbered on the Vancouver team.

Westminster is bringing its regular team, and expects to return home with another victory added to its record. The Minto Cup holders have settled all their differences with the Terminals since the retirement of Con Jones, and it is expected that a clean and fast lacrosse game will be witnessed on the local grounds. The defeat of the Royals by the V. A. C. twelve was one of the biggest sensations of the season and with this to spur them on, the Vancouver boys, of the former Jones' organization, figure they can just about beat the champions.

The grounds, which have been made ready for the track meet on Thursday next, are in perfect condition for the game, and with good weather, an exhibition of Canada's national game by some of the best players in the world, should draw a big crowd of local enthusiasts, as well as visitors who will probably never again have the opportunity of seeing a world champion team perform.

The line-ups.

BAYLEY HOPES FOR ANOTHER MATCH

Former Champion May Give Exhibition With Al Davies at Drill Hall Wednesday Evening

Joe Bayley, former lightweight champion of Canada, who tried unavailingly to regain his title from "Frenchie" Vaise on Saturday, is back in Victoria looking none the worse for the contest. The only mark is a slight cut on his lip. Bayley has hopes of getting another bout with Vaise within a month or so.

The opinion of sport writers in Vancouver is unanimously to the effect that but for that one unlucky blow which sent him to the mat in the thirteenth round Bayley would have won on Saturday by a wide margin. Morris Condon, his manager, states that counting that blow for all it was worth Bayley should still have been given the decision.

It is just possible that Bayley and Al Davies will appear in an exhibition at the Drill Hall on Wednesday evening as the feature of a smoking concert to be given in honor of the petty officers and men, of H. M. S. New Zealand and the U. S. S. West Virginia.

LONDON'S GOOD-BYE TO FRENCH PRESIDENT

Thousands Lined Streets to Speed His Parting—Symbolic Handshake of King and M. Poincare.

The memprable visit of the President of the French Republic to London came to an end quietly so far as the official ceremony of leave-taking was concerned, for precedent determines that the departure of State visitors shall be private. But the procotel does not govern the people, and the public, who have learned to hold M. Poincare in very affectionate esteem, gathered in their thousands to speed his parting with hearty cheers, says The London Standard. All the way from St. James' Palace was lined with people, and in the neighborhood of Victoria Station the crowds were dense.

One of the waiting-rooms at the station had been converted into a reception room, and was filled with the most beautiful flowers, including some wonderful orchids. The main line platform was carpeted in dull red, and the walls in the vicinity were hung with cloth of the same color. The train that stood in waiting was made up of the latest type of Pullman cars, in one of which the President and his party breakfasted on their way to Dover. The joint railways were represented by their chairmen, Mr. Cosmo Bonsor and Sir W. Hart-Dyke.

By half-past nine a group of distinguished people had begun to gather on the platform; M. de Fleuriau, Councillor, the naval and military attaches, and the staff of the French embassy; Sir Edward Grey and Sir Francis Bertie, who came early and had a long chat; the Viceroy of Ireland, Lord Aberden, the Lord Mayor, General Codrington, and some of the staff. At ten minutes to ten cheers outside announced the arrival of the King. He was in morning dress, and came with the Prince of Wales in a pair-hors carriage. He was joined in the reception room by the Duke of Connaught and Prince Arthur of Connaught. Immediately after the President arrived in a state carriage and four, warmly cheered by the people.

Three Strenuous Days

The official good-byes were said in the reception room; then side by side the King and President came on to the platform. The small assembled company uncovered respectfully, but there was no demonstration. M. Poincare looked pale and tired—and no wonder, after tha three strenuous days he has passed among us—but his eyes were as keen and alert as ever, and he carried on a smiling conversation with the King.

It was almost time for the train to start; the King and the President clasped hands long and heartily, then, while the King bade farewell to M. Pichon and M. Cambon and others in the Presidential party, M. Poincare shook hands with the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught, Prince Arthur of Connaught, and Sir Edward Grey. Then he turned to get into the train, but caught sight of the Lord Mayor and at once went back to take leave of him A last handshake with the King, a last word with him, and the President stepped into the train. We saw him standing on the platform of his saloon, bareheaded and smiling and waving his hand, until the departing train took him from view.

"Au revoir, M. le President!" They were the King's own words, uttered on the station platform, and they embody the hope and wish of the whole British nation. A revoir, M. Poincare! You have made an impression upon the English people that will never be obliterated. We are henceforth your sincere admirers and your devoted friends. But you have done so much more than win a personal triumph; you have broadened and deepened and made more intelligent a friendship between two great, progressive nations which is necessary to the well-being of humanity and the cause of peaceful progress. For some years now the French and English have been learning how to understand and appreciate each other; you have advanced that process to an extent that can scarcely be estimated. The golden words that have fallen from your lips into our ears have revealed to us, more clearly than anything we have heard or seen before, all the gallantry and the chivalry, the poetry and the common sense, the good taste and the good feeling, all the generous impulses, the noble ideals and the becoming pride of the great French nation. We are prouder than ever since you came amongst us to hold the hand of that nation in friendship—a friendship in the fullest English meaning of the word.

Britain's Firm Friend

"How many surprises England had for me!—apart from the greatest of all, which was to find myself there." So wrote Pierre Loti after his first visit to London, the city which he had sworn never to visit. And it only needed one visit to change the famous novelist from a fierce Anglophobe into an equally fierce Anglophile—an almost miraculous conversion with which the personality of King Edward (as in everything relating to the entente cordiale) had much to do.

There are no real Anglophobes in France now; the "hereditary enemy" has become the firm friend of today and the future. But in London during the past few years there were a great many Frenchmen discovering us—as Pierre Loti did some years ago—for the first time, and evidently finding us very nice and interesting. "It is strange," wrote Loti, "I had told myself that in London I should find everything antipathetic; but, on the contrary, I feel all my hates dying down against this people—eternal enemy of ours. This, moreover, is proverbial. You cannot know the English without meeting them at home."

And all over London during the President's visit French people were busy studying us at home. Cameras were snapping off everywhere—in Hyde Park, in the Strand, in Piccadilly Circus. Policemen on traffic duty were favorite studies for the amateur photographers from over the Channel. The soldiers on duty on the Horse Guards in Whitehall also came in for much attention, and the flower girls on the edge of the fountain in Piccadilly Circus. When our friends get back to Paris one can foresee a rush on shops where albums are sold, and the snap-shots that will be placed in them, entitled proudly, "Vues de Londres." And lucky those who have snapped a Highlander! It is the ambition of every French visitor to see a kilted soldier from that far-away country of mountains called "Ecosse," where, as is well known, nobody would dream of wearing anything but a kilt. Unhappily, Highland soldiers in the streets are rather rare—as rare, indeed, as kilts in the Highlands.

Invasion of Westminster

And, of course, Westminster was visited by thousands of Frenchmen and their wives. Every French writer of note who visits London records his impressions of Westminster. Our friends admire it tremendously, and they invaded it. One saw scores in the abbey, in the cloisters, and staring up with reverence at the stately pile of the Houses of Parliament. "A place of strange beauty," wrote Loti, "this palace of the Parliament—a kind of immense forest of Gothic spires standing at the water's edge, like a cliff of grey lace." How many of our worthy legislators inside it think of it in that way?

The teashops were favorite resorts of the French visitors; our only substitute for the cafe, and on a hot afternoon by no means an inferior one. But one saw them everywhere, taking pleasure in their surroundings, and inspecting us with all the keen interest of people who are "en grand voyage." And it must be remembered that London, except as a fabled horror of damp and gloom, was hardly known in Paris when M. Loubet came to visit us ten years ago, and little more appreciated when M. Fallieres came three years later. What a change now, in the days of M. Poincare, the third President to visit us officially! And what a gulf separates us from those days when M. Henri de Rochefort—after the Boulanger troubles—was an exile in our midst from 1889 to 1895, and thought so little of us that he refused to learn our language for fear of spoiling his own French! Times have changed indeed, and Fashoda seems a century ago—as far away as Waterloo.

FOREST RESERVES IN WEST

Amended Act Adds 10,500 Square Miles to Existing Areas in Alberta Saskatchewan and Manitoba

The amended Dominion forest reserves and parks act added over 10,500 square miles to existing area of Dominion forest reserves, making a total of over 35,800 square miles of reserved forest land in the Western Provinces under Dominion jurisdiction. Of this reserved area, 3,782 square miles are found in Alberta, 1,372 square miles in Saskatchewan, and 4,103 square miles in Manitoba. Over two-thirds of the total area is found in Alberta, owing to the fact that practically all the eastern slope of the Rockies has been set apart as a forest reserve, not only to perpetuate the supply of timber, but to preserve and equalize the flow of the large prairies rivers which have their sources in this reserved area.

These Western reserves are created by the Dominion Government, as cited in the act, "for the maintenance, protection and reproduction of the timber growing thereon or which may hereafter grow thereon, for the conservation of the minerals and the protection of the animals, birds and fish therein, and for the maintenance of conditions favorable to a continuous water supply." To accomplish these ends the reserves must first be protected from fire, nor is the timber so protected allowed to die of old age. The foresters determine at what diameter in each section the maximum production is attained, and when the trees reach this size they are granted free for a nominal sum to homesteaders who apply to the forest officials for cutting purposes. Care is taken not to allow over-cutting.

The Market

The work of turning the old Presbyterian Church into a City Market has begun and it should not take long to complete it. In a few weeks those who have fruit or produce to sell should be able to deal directly with the consumers.

The opening of this market is an experiment and it is one of much importance. If it fails we cannot expect that the land in the vicinity of Victoria will be occupied for agricultural purposes. If it succeeds, market gardens and orchards and dairy and poultry farms will be operated in the Southern part of Vancouver Island and in the neighboring islands by people who are contented to work hard that they may make a modest competence and bring up their families in the country.

If it fails, we must be content to pay the present high prices and to import a far larger proportion of food than we ought. It will succeed if those who furnish the tables of the city patronize it and if producers take the trouble to bring in foodstuffs in good condition.

It remains to be seen whether housewives are thrifty enough to attend the market and select the best and cheapest products with which to supply their tables and whether those who own land are in earnest in their contention that the middlemen are taking away their profits.

Lieutenant-Governor Paterson Officiates at Opening of Carnival

CROWDS ASSEMBLE TO ENJOY FESTIVAL

First Day of Carnival Brings Animated Scenes—Sports Carried Out With Promptitude and Efficiency.

The city of Victoria, masked for Carnival, broke into a week's festivities yesterday, and it must be said that no function of the kind could have been ushered in under happier auspices. The sky was a dreamy azure, undisturbed by other hues; the city looked resplendant in its multi-colored gown, and the citizens and visitors supplied the human touch which galvanized the picture into animation. In every sense of the word it was a fete day for the Capital, demonstrative not only of her capacity and disposition for festivity, but also of her appeal to outsiders when in the frolicsome humor, for, while the end of the week may break records in the matter of crowds, the first day certainly set a fast pace in that direction.

For the opening day of the Carnival there was a happy combination of attractions. In the first place, there was the arrival of the New Zealand and West Virginia, either of which, under ordinary circumstances, would have set the town agog with excitement; and, following hard upon that came the formal opening ceremony in Beacon Hill Park, with the guard of honor, consisting of bluejackets, in attendance upon the Lieutenant-Governor, who conducted the ceremony. The park was in regalia, and the scene to the detached individual was one of memorable significance and charm. Motor boat racing, water polo and ordinary polo, bowling and other games, filled in the afternoon of special attractions, while the evening warmed to a close with the ball to the officers of the New Zealand, given by the Union Club, and the informal reception in the Empress Hotel by the Carnival committee.

Festive Crowds

Around town, where the congestion developed almost to the point of discomfort at times, the general dignified tone of the city was transformed into something infinitely lighter, with a vein of irrepressible humor running through it like a dazzling thread on a scheme of work already bright. The congestion was most marked in the vicinity of the old Spencer site, which had been reclaimed from disuetude for purposes which were a travesty compared with its natural one. In brief, it resembled a corner in a show ground, with the lions and elephants missing; but there were the merry-go-rounds, the "knock-me-downs," and the usual plethora of examples of the inventive faculty of the traveling Gypsies. Victorians and others gathered around the several booths and exercised the strange tendons of the mind in trying to comprehend the incomprehensible. But it was fun, and that was the essential feature. Curiously enough, and yet how strangely like Victoria, despite all the excitement and the density of the mob, there was no apparent trouble, and the day wore on in placid enjoyment for those who preferred to remain in town in preference to taking in one or other of the sporting events on the programme.

Quite early in the day the Carnival Committee got into action. The arrival of the West Virginia impelled the officers to make a call upon Admiral Reynolds to inform him of the arrangements made for the reception and entertainment of his ship's company. Ald. Cuthbert, accompanied by Mr. F. A. Pauline and one or two others, went aboard and shook hands with the doughty admiral. Sailor-like, the admiral entreated them to prolong their visit, thrust refreshments upon them, and generally accorded them the sort of welcome tradition has given the prodigal cause to expect. When it was over, the party had just time to make a hurried trip to New Zealand and exchange courtesies with Captain Halsey. The worthy captain requested them to step down the companion-way, but they declined on the ground that they would be trespassing upon his time in getting his men ready for the inaugural services.

Sports on Water

The Gorge and Cadboro Bay divided the honors of the afternoon, with the odds perhaps slightly in favor of the former. The swimming proved to be a splendid attraction, the various events drawing a great crowd of enthusiasts from the city. Of the results it is unnecessary to speak here, for they are fully dealt with elsewhere; suffice it to say that no aquatic performance of recent years has attained a higher measure of success, and in speaking of that it is but fair to mention that not a little of it is due to the untiring efforts of Mr. Pomfret. Out at Cadboro Bay the scene, though not less brilliant and animated, was scarcely so personally and individually absorbing The motor races provided excellent watching—one of the oldest of pastimes—and the coming of the boats from the long-distance points proved very exciting. The Hathaway races did not materialize yesterday owing to some unforseen delay, but they are expected to come today.

The evening scored a decided hit for the social end of the programme. At the Union Club there was the ball in honor of the New Zealand, which attracted a great many people from the Mainland and other points of the Island, as well as from the city. A great number of the guests "put up" at the Empress Hotel for the occasion, and, naturally, the scene there was of more than passing interest, although verbally it was no more than that. There was also the informal reception of the Citizens' Committee, the organization which is responsible for the Carnival. This function took place in the ballroom, and later developed into something more adapted to the uses of the place, the guests being strung to the necessary pitch of enthusiasm by the day's proceedings, and having the managerial eye affecting a kindly obliquity, took up the terpsichorean art with splendid daring and gusto.

Taken all in all, it was a great opening day. The programme was faithfully followed, and in no case did the events prove disappointing. The people turned out finely for the occasion, and the city looked its best. The question of whether or not the Carnival would bring people to the city was satisfactorily answered in the the great number that came in on the steamers from the Mainland points. The C. P. R. reported heavy traffic, as also did all other transportation concerns, not excluding the E. & N., which brought down a large contingent of visitors from points located up the line. The hotels were crowded, and the Empress, which, of course, was a prominent centre, turned people away, unable to accommodate them.

The officers of the Shearwater and Rainbow, together with the officers from Work Point Barracks, will have a tent at the Willows grounds today, and will be "at home" to their friends in honor of the New Zealand and West Virginia. It is expected that the tent of the officers will be the scene of many an interesting meeting.

The Ladies' Guild of the Seamen's Institute will serve tea at the flower show which opens this afternoon. His Worship Mayor Morley will officiate at the opening. This attraction of the Carnival is regarded as one of the leading features, and is sure to be very largely attended.

The Lipton Trophy

The following is a description of the trophy presented by Sir Thomas Lipton:—

The cup is drawn to full size and the cover is surmounted by an originally modelled ship of the Viking class. The body is enriched with enamelled burgees of the rowing association and with the racing flag of Sir Thomas Lipton. It bears an appropriate inscription on a specially modelled panel, the reverse side being occupied by an eight-oar rowing scene embossed. The body of the cup is supported by an original design of a pair of modelled-Tritons springing from a shell. The decorations of the handle, etc., are of a maritime character. The whole stands upon a fumed oak pedestal and the silver shields for the yearly winners are modelled in the outline of a shamrock.

WAS VETERAN EDITOR OF THE GOLD CAMPS

An Appreciation of the Late John G. Egan, Who Passed Away a Few Days Ago at Rossland.

Mr. W. A. Harkin, one of the pioneer newspapermen of British Columbia, writes as follows in The Vancouver Province, regarding the late Col. J. G. Egan, who passed away in Rossland a few days ago:

"The news of the passing of the veteran newspaperman will be learned with regret by thousands of friends and admirers throughout the country. He had been ailing for over a year, but continued to attend to his editorial duties until recently. On several occasions he was compelled to go to the hospital for treatment.

"Col. Egan spent his early youth and manhood in San Francisco, Cal. He first learned the printer's trade, like many illustrious predecessors, graduating into the journalistic profession. He was connected for over thirty years with various publications of that city, and at different periods had an interest in weeklies devoted to trade affairs. A clever writer, he soon attracted the notice of the late Senator Hearst, owner of The San Francisco Examiner, and father of Mr. William Randolph Hearst, and an offer to join its staff was accepted. Some of his most brilliant work was done for that journal and embraced the many absorbing and stirring events hinging about the anti-Oriental agitation of Denis Kearney, of "Sand Lots" fame. Mining lured him to Nevada in the seventies. There he became an intimate friend of the late "Bonanza" Mackay, James Flood and other magnates. In Carson City he worked for a newspaper on which Mark Twain had been employed as a printer only a few years before.

Was Excellent Raconteur

It was a rare treat to listen to the Colonel relate reminiscences of those stirring days when fortunes were made and lost in speculation in mining shares. He had the usual luck of the plunger, at one time clearing up $100,000 in a deal only to drop it a few weeks later in another. Later he returned to San Francisco and subsequently removed to Portland, Ore., where he resided for several years before locating in Seattle. He was connected with newspapers in those cities and also spent several sessions in the press gallery at Victoria. His brother, Martin Egan, is a well-known war correspondent and was formerly London correspondent of the Associated Press.

The discovery of ore in the Kootenays in the early nineties attracted him to Rossland, then a small camp without railway communication with the outside world. Like hundreds of other fortune-seekers, he "trekked" in over the weary miles of trail from Spokane. He was welcomed to The Rossland Miner staff, then controlled by John Reavis, and later by Mr. F. Augustus Heinze, a Butte mining operator, who also built the smelter at Trail. Possessing a good, all-round knowledge of mining, Colonel Egan rendered a valuable service not only to the new camp, but to the outside world, for his conservative reports on the various mining properties then undergoing development. He was a man with a scrupulous sense of honor and absolutely unpurchasable. Woe to the "wild cat" promoter who attempted to bribe him with offers of mining stock!

Colonel Egan told the truth without fear or favor. His integrity became known and won him the confidence and respect of the entire community. Later he assumed the editorial chair, his varied experience serving him in good stead. He was a clear, strong, and forcible writer with very high ideals.

He subsequently resigned to accept a similar position with The Nelson News, where he also became a great favorite with everyone. He threw down his editorial pen to join in the stampede to Poplar Creek, the scene of rich gold discoveries. He was the first to declare that the camp had no future and stemmed the rush from outside points.

After a stay of several years he returned to Rossland and then followed a year's stay in Vancouver and Seattle before resuming his former duties in Rossland.

Warm hearted and impulsive, Colonel Egan had many qualities that endeared him to those who enjoyed his friendship. He was unreservedly loyal to his friends and displayed a boundless charity to those whose views or methods he did not endorse. Perhaps his most notable trait was his unselfishness. Few individuals in the storm and stress of everyday life possessed this quality in anything like the same degree. To his wife and family he was absolutely devoted, while his time and money were always unreservedly at the service of his friends.

It was an inspiration to have known Colonel Egan. A life devoted to the welfare of his fellowmen has not been lived in vain.

Reformation

The women of Seattle are uniting to ask for a reformatory for delinquent women. There can be no question that they are right. Nothing can be worse than the system of punishment that now prevails in most English-speaking countries.

Women convicted in the police courts fined or imprisoned for short terms. When they are released or discharged they have no other alternative than to return to the old life. No one will employ them even if they desired it.

The case would be otherwise if offenders were sentenced to a reformatory where they would be treated kindly, but compelled to learn some business by which they could support themselves after their discharge.

This experiment has been tried in the State of New York and it has been found that by wise and patient treatment the majority of those committed to the reformatory have been not only benefited but cured. Miss Davis, the lady under whose direction this work is, has unbounded faith and great wisdom. Work has been found for those who are discharged suited to their capacity and to their circumstances. Social reformers in our own Province would do well to undertake work which, however, difficult and arduous, gives promise of success.

Dull Seasons

There is no greater extravagance than stoically accepting losses of so-called dull seasons.

Resignation to conditions is a thing of the past; it is now simply a matter of intelligent application.

To desire a thing is to be capable of acquiring it.

When the grade is steepest, the Engineer uses more steam—but he "gets there."

Logically—the greatest impetus to business is advertising—direct—forceful—persistent advertising.

When business is dull—more steam will be required; don't hesitate—use it—and "get there."

REPORTS ON CROPS GOVERN MARKET

Movement of Grain Is on Liberal Scale—Prices of Stocks at New York Show Recovery in Closing Hours.

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The course of today's narrow, listless stock market was governed to an unusual degree by crop conditions. In its bearing upon the general crop situation it is interesting to note that the movement of grain from farms and interior points last week was on a very liberal scale, shipments comparing favorably with the corresponding period last year. Western traffic, as a whole, is fairly even, and bankers in that section, if not optimistic, are at least not pessimistic.

Initial trading in the stocks here, which again lacked foreign interest, by reason of London's long holiday, was marked by dullness to the point of absolute inertia. In the final hours, when occasional spurts of activity were witnessed, the market made full recovery, and in many instances rose a point or more from last week's final close. Exception to this reversal were found in the shares of the express companies, which were lower on rate reductions ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and Mexican National Railway, preferred, which weakened on suspension of the developments on the First Preferred stock.

The bond market was irregular with no noteworthy changes.

Total sales, par value, were $1,100,000.

MONTREAL STOCKS

MONTREAL, Aug. 4.—There was no improvement in the volume of business in the local stock market today, but the undertone was stronger, notwithstanding the fact that trading in Wall Street was dull. The London and Toronto markets were closed. A feature of the day was the activity of Cement Common, of which over 1,000 changed hands. It opened strong at 31¼c and steadily sold up to 32c, from which point it receded a half point to 31½c, and closed with a net gain of 1¼ points for the day.

GRAIN MARKETS

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 4.—Wheat values were influenced by the strong corn markets of Saturday in the early hours, but later reports of rain in the corn belt sent prices down again to around Friday's figures. Chicago corn fluctuated wildly, the spread in today's business being 1⅝c to 2⅛c.

Winnipeg wheat opened ⅛c to ⅛c higher, and closed unchanged to ⅛c lower. Liverpool market was closed for the holidays, and the continental markets unchanged to higher. Paris closed ¼c higher, Budapest ⅛c higher, Antwerp ⅝c higher, and Berlin unchanged.

The cash demand for wheat was fairly good for the Eastern trade, and offerings somewhat scarce, while export bids are still out of line.

Cash prices closed unchanged to ⅛c higher for contract grades. Oats were steady, while flax was stronger. Cash oats closed unchanged to ⅛c higher. Cash flax closed unchanged to ½c higher.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Obstructing the Sidewalks

Referring to Mr. Kennedy's and other letters, is it not probable that much of the confusion among pedestrians on the streets of Victoria is caused by Americans taking the right side and Canadians and English people taking the left side?

The habit of standing in groups of three or more directly in the centre of the sidewalk on a busy street is an obnoxious one, and is not tolerated in a city of any size, as we all know. People guilty of this rudeness should be admonished by the nearest officer and "moved on." The writer has personally observed four or five men, chatting and smoking, stand for over half an hour directly in the path, and meantime people going about their legitimate business were compelled to walk around them.

Bringing these things to the notice of the public is often all the rebuke needed. It is easy when wishing to speak with friends on the street to draw them to one side, and not interfere with busy people.

MRS. H. C FERRER

(Our correspondent is in error in one respect. English people when walking turn to the right, and so do Americans and Canadians, when they think about it. The trouble with us is on this Continent is that we are so accustomed to plenty of room that we walk all over the place.—Ed. Colonist.)

ITALIAN MILITARY FEAT

Battery of Mountain Artillery Ascends Mount Etna—Firing Exercises on Brink of Volcano

An extraordinary feat of military skill has been accomplished by a battery of Italian mountain artillery in climbing to the central crater of Mount Etna, at an elevation of nearly 11,000 feet.

After a long day's march from Cantania the battery reached the outer fringe of the Linguaglossa forest, where they encamped for the night. At dawn the soldiers and mules, with the full regulation equipment, started their toilsome climb on the exceedingly difficult Mongibello side through the region of eternal ashes, till the mules sank to the knees, and the riders were obliged to continue afoot. The fiery crater formed by the eruption two years ago, just 100 yards below the principal mouth, was reached at 11:30. Here the mules had to be unloaded and the guns dragged to the summit by manual force.

Firing exercises were carried out on the brink of the volcano, until the battery were obliged to retreat to avoid asphyxiation by the sulphur smoke.

DELAYED BY HEAD WINDS

German Ship Paul Made a Remarkably Slow Passage From Salaverry to Puget Sound

TACOMA, Aug. 4.—Uneventful and tedious was the voyage of the German ship Paul, which arrived in port early Friday morning from Salaverry, Peru. Captain M. Kruger, master of the vessel, says his command was delayed by eight or ten days of strong head winds and several days of flat calm. She was seventy days to Puget Sound.

The Paul will at once begin loading lumber cargo for Australia. She is under charter to the American Trading Company and will load her entire cargo at this port, beginning at the Defiance mill.

It will be some time yet before either the British ship Hilston or the German bark Reinbek are loaded for the United Kingdom. The Hilston has been in port since early in June. She will probably leave the latter part of the month for Europe with her cargo of big sticks. The Reinbek has close to 200,000 feet on board. She arrived in port early last month, but it was some time before she shifted into the dock and began taking cargo.

EXPLORER RADFORD AMONG THE ESQUIMOS

Has Been in the Far North for Four Years and Does Not Expect to Return Until 1915.

Harry V. Radford, the explorer, who discovered a large herd of wild bison in the Great Slave Lake district of the Hudson Bay country several years ago, sent a note through one of his breed guides to the outpost on Herschel Island a year ago, telling the factor in charge of the trading station that he intended to work farther north, and probably remain in the country until 1915. He has adopted the dress of the Eskimos, and will live with them the latter part of his stay.

Howard Allen, head of two whaling outfits which go out from Herschel every year, who has passed the last four years on the Arctic Coast, brought the foregoing news to Edmonton a few days ago. This is the first authentic word received on the outside from the explorer who has been in the North four years, making a special study of animal life.

"The half-breed guide laid in a stock of supplies at Herschel," Allen said. "He brought word that Radford would not need any more provisions until he was ready to take the homeward trail as he intended to stay with the Esquimos.

"There was a report two years ago that Radford had lost his mind, also that the guides, who accompanied him from Edmonton, had deserted him close to the barren lands. The last part is true, but we are told that Radford had secured native guides and is now continuing his investigations."

Radford spent the Winter of 1911-12 along the Trenton River, across the barren lands, after leaving Fort Resolution. J. Harding, factor for the Hudson's Bay Company at the last named trading post on Great Slave Lake, brought news to Edmonton last September, that Radford was alive and well at Trenton River, where he made investigations. The explorer was seen by fur-traders, who talked with him and carried his message to the outside world.

Set Out Four Years Ago

Radford, who is widely known in scientific circles, had as the object of his expedition a visit to the home of the wood bison in the almost unknown region of Northwestern Canada, west of the Slave River and north of the lower Peace River. This expedition started in 1909 and has included track surveys over many hundreds of miles, and furnished Radford the opportunity of closely studying the wood bison in its haunts, and of making the first recorded observations on this rare animal in life.

Eighteen specimens were seen by him during the first part of his exploration tour, and under a permit from the Canadian Government one was killed by him. It weighed 2,402 pounds, and both the skin and skeleton were preserved. The skin was presented by Radford to the Provincial Museum in Edmonton, while the skeleton was obtained by the National Museum in Washington.

Mr. Allen says the catch of whales was exceptionally good three years ago, but since then it has been difficult to make an ordinary catch. The whales appear to have deserted their former grounds and as a consequence, Mr. Allen states, Herschel will be abandoned as a whaling post within the next few years.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes:

"For some time I had been in a low, depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this.

At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cleanse the system thoroughly. Sold by all dealers at 25c a box. 6

YOKOHAMA MARU RACING ACROSS

SADO MARU NOW LOADING OUTWARD

Racing across the Pacific, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Yokohama Maru is now five days out from the Japanese Coast en route to Victoria. She is endeavoring to make the passage in fourteen days, and unless delayed by weather or mishap, will reach port tomorrow week.

She is bringing a valuable cargo of raw silk, silk goods, tea, porcelain, matting, gunnies, oranges and other Chinese and Japanese merchandise.

Also aboard the Yokohama Maru are forty passengers, including twenty-one Chinese, for Victoria, and 107 for Puget Sound. There is over $500,000 worth of raw silk and silk goods in the vessel's hold, a total of 1,009 bales and 81 cases. Of her total cargo 305 tons are for Victoria, 585 tons for coastwise shipment, 1,263 tons for shipment overland via Seattle, and 200 tons for California ports. Among the shipments are 3,000 packages of tea, 360 cases of porcelain goods, and 1,569 rolls of matting.

Sado Maru Loading Outward

The steamship Sado Maru, of the same fleet, is now on Puget Sound loading 3,000 tons of wheat in readiness for her sailing on August 12 for the Orient. In addition to wheat cargo the Sado Maru will take out flour, machinery and general freight. The Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Panama Maru will clear port this morning with a full cargo for the Far East. She is taking out a large shipment of flour and also heavy shipments of machinery and general freight.

The next liner of this fleet due in port is the Seattle Maru, which is now en route across the Pacific. She will arrive on Wednesday with passengers, general freight and a shipment of raw silk.

Departures Tomorrow

Taking out one of the largest passenger lists this year the Canadian-Australian royal mail liner Makura, Captain Phillips, is scheduled to sail from the Outer Docks tomorrow, and will in all likelihood clear this port about 5 p.m. for Auckland and Sydney via Honolulu.

Another deep sea boat leaving port tomorrow is the Blue Funnel liner Talthybius, which is scheduled to sail with 15,000 tons of general freight for the United Kingdom. She will berth at the opposite dock to the equally large Blue Funnel liner Bellerophon.

After shipping over 100,000 feet of lumber, the Harrison steamer Candidate, Captain Rushforth, sailed on Sunday evening for Puget Sound and San Francisco on her way to the United Kingdom by way of the Magellan Straits.

The Blue Funnel liner Ajax arrived at Yokohama last Thursday from Victoria, Vancouver and Puget Sound ports.

HERAKLES IN DRYDOCK

Norwegian Vessel, Which Grounded Off Fraser River, Will Be Given Thorough Overhaul

The Norwegian steamship Herakles, Captain Berg, which grounded at the mouth of the Fraser River on July 14, on her way to discharge a full cargo of steel rails at Port Mann, was floated into Esquimalt drydock yesterday for survey and overhaul.

Examination failed to show that the Herakles had sustained serious damage, but while in dock she will be thoroughly overhauled. The vessel was pulled off the bar by tugs July 15, after having lightered 900 tons.

When she leaves the drydock the Herakles will return to the Fraser River, being under charter to load at the Fraser River Mills for Buenos Ayres. She has been chartered by Price and Pearce of London.

Corrugated Ships

The order for two ships of the Monitor corrugated type has been placed, on behalf of British owners, with Messrs. Osbourne, Graham & Co., of Sunderland, the engines to be supplied by the Northeastern Engineering Co. The Monitor is distinguished from the ordinary plain ship by having two projecting corrugations which run fore and aft between the load line and the bilge, and it is claimed that this construction, besides giving increased strength, stability and general seaworthiness, augments the cargo-carrying capacity by some 5 per cent, while the speed is increased or alternatively the same speed may be obtained as with a plain ship of the same dimensions with a saving of 16 per cent in coal.

Due From the Mersey

The Liverpool tug Blackcock, with the steamer St. George, recently purchased by the Canadian-Pacific Company from the Great Western Company, in tow, is due to arrive at Halifax from the Mersey. The St. George was recently built at Birkenhead for the Fishguard-Rosslare service, and has a speed of about twenty knots.

ENGLISH AIRSHIP LINE

Passenger Service From London to Manchester and Other Interior Cities Is Planned

An airship passenger service between London and Paris, between London and Manchester and other English cities will be commenced very shortly. The scheme is above all a commercial proposition, in which anything experimental will be eliminated.

Mr. E. C. Powell, of London, the originator of the proposal, says: "Apart from the commercial aspects of the question we will endeavor to demonstrate by object lessons the efficiency and safety of dirigible airships and to establish an airship industry in Great Britain."

A start is to be made "as soon as possible." It is to be a passenger airship service similar to those which have been tried elsewhere, notably in Germany.

"We can make excellent aeroplanes in England today, but at the present we cannot turn out an all-British airship. Our airship, however, will be built in England. Everything will be the result of the co-operation of British labor and capital, but at first it may be necessary to go abroad for some things. We shall start with a non-rigid, or semi-rigid type of airship. These can be built more cheaply and more quickly than the rigid type, and they will sail higher than the rigid. On the other hand, the industry once thoroughly established, it will be necessary, as far as we know at present, to build rigid ships if we want larger vessels.

"The airship will be made to carry, nominally, a dozen passengers, as well as a fair cargo. We have secured the services of the most competent and experienced men, and we shall begin the industry of airship building in England as far as possible at the point to which the experience of other countries has brought them. Underwriters have already guaranteed our capital, but we wish to enlist the interest of the business community and the public generally in the scheme."

FINE BOAT FOR HARRISON LINE

Company Demonstrates That Under Its Control Rennie Line Is About to Enter Upon Progressive Era.

Messrs. J. and T. Harrison, of Liverpool, have not been long in demonstrating that under their control the historic Rennie Line is about to enter upon a new and progressive era of its existence as the Harrison-Rennie Line. It is now nearly two years since Messrs. Harrison took over the fleet, and in the interim they have been devoting a good deal of consideration to the question of its development. The building of the Ingoma is an indication of the policy which the well-known shipping firm intends to pursue.

The Ingoma is a very different class of vessel from all the Rennie boats. The latest unit took shape in the yards of Messrs. D. and W. Henderson & Co., Ltd., at Meadowside. She is 420 feet in length, with a beam of fifty-two feet, and a moulded depth of thirty-one feet; her gross tonnage being 5,600.

Fine Passenger Accommodation

Accommodation is provided for 120 first-class passengers, some of the state-rooms being specially designed for the convenience of families. The dining saloon is a beautifully bright apartment, with excellent lighting arrangements. The generous scale on which the promenading space on the boat deck has been planned is a noteworthy feature of the vessel, while with her ample supply of boats, her wireless installation, and the modern safety devices embodied in the construction of the hull, including the carrying of eight bulkheads up to the upper deck, she is equipped with every possible safeguard in case of emergency. As a cargo carrier she is equally well arranged. Her deadweight capacity is 6,850 tons; insulated space is provided for the carriage of perishable goods, in addition to the ship's provisions. The Ingoma is now making her maiden voyage from Middlesbrough to Capetown and Natal.

Japanese Buy Russian Liner

The liner Curonia, belonging to the Russian East Asiatic Company, of Libau, has been sold to Japanese buyers for about $82,500. She is of 4,572 tons gross and 2,949 tons net register, and was built at Glasgow in 1880, with dimensions 386 feet, by 43.2 feet, by 28.5 feet.

FAMOUS COLLIER REPORTED SOLD

Well-Known Steamer Wellington, Which Since May Has Been Laid Up at Esquimalt, Changes Hands.

According to rumors current on the Coast, the British steamer Wellington, which has been laid up at Esquimalt since May 26, has been sold, though the names of the purchasers and the price paid have not been ascertained. The Wellington is a vessel of 1,967 net tons. The vessel is well-known in the Coast trade, having for many years carried coal from British Columbia to San Francisco, until laid up at Nanaimo last May.

The British steamer Queen Louise has been added to the fleet of ten vessels under charter to transport Government coal from Norfolk to the North Pacific. She is now twenty-eight days out from the Atlantic port. Other vessels of this coal fleet are the British steamers Epsom and Bellucia, the latter being under charter for the outward trip to load wheat at Puget Sound or Portland for the United Kingdom at 38s 9d, with the option of Japan at 17s 6d. This still leaves ten steamers not yet fixed for outward business, which, with the British steamer Forfric, southbound from Nome, makes a fairly large supply of idle tonnage, preventing any higher freight rates for a month at least.

The Norwegian steamer Thor, which is discharging a cargo of Japanese coal on Puget Sound, is under charter to Balfour, Guthrie & Co. for lumber from the Columbia or the Sound to North China.

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS PLANNED FOR CLYDE

Proposal to Construct Three New Basins and Five Miles of Quays Within Boundaries of Greater Glasgow.

The Clyde navigation trustees have unanimously approved of the harbor committee's recommendation that powers be obtained from Parliament for the construction of new works at Shieldhall, Shiels and Braehead.

On the north side of the Clyde, the trustees' powers have been almost exhausted by the recent completion of the Rothesay dock, Merkland quay, and Yorkhill basin and quay.

On the south side the trustees have gradually acquired river frontage between Shieldhall sewage works and Renfrew, which they now propose to utilize for the construction of five new basins, three of them long enough to accommodate four Atlantic liners. This will add five miles of new quays to the present eleven miles, and there will also be an ample equipment of railway lines.

The novel feature of the new docks will be their slanting position, which will reduce canting to a minimum and limit the interuption of the port traffic when large vesels are entering or leaving the new docks. The plan includes a wide diversion of the Renfrew Road.

The part for which powers will be immediately sought will supply the needs of expanding trade during the next 15 years and will give two miles of new quayage at a cost of a million and a half sterling. By beginning the construction next the river and gradually working in they would have a small dock in a short time, and before they had spent much money they would be earning some return for the capital they had expended.

The cost of the whole scheme cannot yet be estimated. This will form as complete a scheme of modern docks as would be found anywhere in the world.

The convener of the finance committee reported that the revenue for the year amounted to £624,799, an increase of £42,244 over the previous year. In the last 25 years the revenue has doubled itself, and it has increased fivefold in the last 50 years. For 1912 there was a surplus revenue of £70,000, and a larger one is expected this year.

A noteworthy point in the scheme is that the whole of the operations contemplated by the trustees, both in the immediate and further future, will be conducted within the boundaries of Greater Glasgow.

NEW TAXES IN GERMANY

Measures to Increase Army and to Raise $290,000,000 Are Passed by the Reichstag

Before the Reichstag adjourned President Kaempf said that the day's session would live as one of the most memorable in its history. His words did not exaggerate the importance of the work done by the House on that day, for this included the bill increasing the peace strength of the army by 136,000 men, as well as the financial bills rendered necessary by it. These latter include two classes of bills, one for meeting the expenses to be incurred in organizing the new forces, building forts, barracks and other extraordinary purposes; the other for defraying the yearly expenses of the increased military footing.

The first class of taxes, which are to bring in at least $240,000,000, consists of a direct tax on property and incomes, and it will be distributed over three years. Both taxes are on graduated scales, under which the largest fortunes pay $15 per thousand, and the largest incomes (those of $120,000 or more) pay $8 per hundred. Foreigners resident in Germany must pay on the same scale as Germans.

The permanent taxes consist of a tax on the yearly increase in wealth from all sources, certain stamp taxes hitherto belonging to the state, an increase of the existing inheritance taxes and the appropriation by the Imperial Government of interstate estates where there are no near heirs. A part of the revenue also will be obtained by retaining the sugar tax at its present level, instead of reducing it by 40 per cent, as a resolution of the Reichstag some four years ago demanded.

The total amount expected from this class of taxes is about $50,000,000. An interesting feature of the tax on increases of wealth is that it includes inheritances of children from the estates of their parents. Thus the inheritance tax, the rejection of which by the Reichstag in 1909 caused the resignation of Prince Buelow, has now been adopted in an indirect way.

MANY CHANGES IN PERSONNEL

Promotions Responsible for the Lack of Familiar Faces Aboard Liner Bellerophon on Present Voyage.

To discharge 1,000 tons of British and Oriental cargo, which includes machinery for Ogden Point breakwater construction, the Blue Funnel liner Bellerophon, Captain Bebb, returned to port yesterday and took up her berth at the Outer Docks.

There are many changes in the personnel of the officers aboard the Bellerophon since her last voyage to this Coast from the United Kingdom.

The men who have won for her the title of "the happy family" have gone to other berths, only three of the old guard remaining with the ship.

The officers remaining are: Captain J. A. Bebb, Chief Engineer H. B. Budd, and Purser G. T. Bell. Promotions have been largely responsible for the changed personnel of the big freighter.

Former Chief Officer J. Robinson, is now in command of the Blue Funnel liner Jason, in the Oriental service from the United Kingdom. Former second officer B. C. Nicol, who was three years on the Bellerophon, is now chief officer of the steamship Hector, in the Australian service, and former third officer W. R. Podmore, is now second officer of the Menlus, in the Java trade.

Present chief officer A. J. Pawley on the Bellerophon was until this voyage, chief officer on the Orestes, in the Australian service, and J. Power present second officer, was in the same capacity on the steamer Orestes. The present third officer R. Campbell, as third officer of the Pak Ling, in the Java trade, until appointed to the present berth.

The Blue Funnel liner Talthybius, which has now practically completed loading a full cargo of general merchandise for the outward passage, will sail tomorrow from the Outer Docks for Liverpool and London via the Orient.

WAS A CONFIRMED DYSPEPTIC
Now Finds It a Pleasure to Enjoy Meals

Here is a case which seemed as bad and as hopeless as yours can possibly be. This is the experience of Mr. H. J. Brown, 384 Bathurst St., Toronto, in his own words:

"Gentlemen—I have much pleasure in mentioning to you the benefits received from your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and can cheerfully recommend them. I simply had confirmed dyspepsia with all its wretched symptoms, and tried about all the advertised cures with no success. You have in Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets the best curative agent I could find. It is now such a pleasure to enjoy meals with their consequent nourishment that I want to mention this for the benefit of others."

The fact that a lot of prescriptions or so-called "cures" have failed to help you is no sign that you have got to go on suffering. Try Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and see how quickly this sterling remedy will give you relief and start your stomach working properly. If it doesn't help you, you get your money back. 50c a box at your druggist's. Compounded by the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal. 141

The Arrival of New Fall Costumes and Coats

Is Making the Mantle Department a Centre of Great Interest

YOU will find a visit to the Mantle Department to view the new Fall styles in Women's and Misses' Coats and Costumes both interesting and profitable.

While we give here a brief description of the new tendencies Dame Fashion has prescribed for the Fall and early Winter, it is impossible for us to convey to you in a word picture the unusually handsome materials and their exquisite styles.

New Tailored Costumes

Our exclusive man-tailored costumes are more popular, so far this season, than ever. We are showing the new models in high-grade serges, in plain colors, fancy worsteds and suitings. These are all lined with best silk or Skinner satin. All sizes are included, but if for any reason you cannot obtain a perfect fit from our regular stock, we shall be pleased to make a suit for you and—we guarantee a perfect fit.

Novelty Costumes in a Great Variety of Pleasing Styles

THE extreme, also modified, cutaway styles are very prominent in the new Fall Models; especially in the brocaded and two-toned novelty cloths with stripe effects. These are very prominent and stand out in contrast to the plainer shades, also brown and grey mixtures.

Those who prefer a more conservative style will find also that there are many interesting features in the new models.

New Fall Styles in Serviceable Coats

The Fall tendency is for three-quarter and seven-eighths length coats, although a few styles are shown in the full length garments.

To a considerable degree the modified cutaway effects are favored, though many straight cut coats are to be found in the lines showing.

This season much attention has been given to the neck finish; almost invariably the collars are so arranged that they can be fastened high up for protection of the neck in cold weather, and the revers are long and narrow.

Materials are so unusually handsome that trimmings are almost unnecessary; and apart from fancy collars and cuffs, little attempt has been made at ornamentation.

The buttons have been selected with great care, and frequently add to the effectiveness of a garment. In most cases they are in the new bright shades.
